Claims his family held hostage

By Don Staruk

The Andover branch of First Essex Savings Bank at 211 North Main St. was robbed of $10,000 Tuesday afternoon by a man who supposedly was carrying a bomb and who told the manager his family was being held hostage.

The man left the bank with the money and escaped. The "bomb" he left behind turned out to be a fake. Police said Wednesday they have no leads, but released a composite drawing of the suspect.

The incident began at about 1:30 p.m. Tuesday when a man walked into the bank

Selectmen to hear about Shawsheen Square redesign

By Don Staruk

Selectmen this coming Monday night, Feb. 22, will get a second look at a traffic design plan for Shawsheen Square that all five board members found fault with when it was described to them two weeks ago.

The redesign is the final stage of the redevelopment of Brickstone Square office complex, most of which was completed about four years ago. Redesigning the square to better handle Brickstone traffic going to and

Seeking poise, personality: Mr. Andover High School

Judges name Lyle Morgan Mr. Andover High

By Lisa Boudreau

Asked to be a judge for the second annual Mr. Andover High School contest last week, I said yes. But I had some reservations. Thirteen teen-age boys competing in a pageant had me a little out of sorts.

Kathy Aeder, junior class faculty adviser, said the evening would be a light, fun, school-spirit event. She said the 13 junior boys would be judged on poise, talent, personality and originality. The contest was not intended to be a beauty pageant, she promised. The money raised offsets the price of prom tickets this spring.

Judge evaluates contest

She was right. The evening was great. The contestants managed to mix the right amount of levity with a small dose of seriousness.

The 13 contestants were Will Hall, Jeff Feinberg, Matt Hoots, Paul Allard, Will Dailey, Dave Poulo, Frank Paone, Chris Sintros, Dan Buchholz, Lyle Mor-

Anorexia: 'It started as a normal diet'

[Editor's note: The young woman in this story, a senior at Andover High School, agreed to the interview on the condition that her real name not be used.]

By Lisa Boudreau

Every spring, 17-year-old Jennifer and her mother went on their ritual pre-summer diet. Three years ago, Jennifer set out to lose 15 pounds and what resulted was several years of out-of-control bouts of anorexia and bulimia.

"It started out as a normal diet. I'm 5-foot 3 and when I started I weighed 123. I wasn't really fat, but I've always been a little chubby," said the Andover High School senior.

"When people think of eating disorders they think of extreme cases where girls weigh 80 pounds and look like they are going to die. I never got to that point.

"I went down to about 104 and even though I was skinny I looked healthy enough. For a long time I didn't even think I had an eating disorder."

'It's the norm to have an eating disorder'

By Lisa Boudreau

Andover psychoanalyst Laura Goodman knows only too well about the array of eating disorders that plague adolescents. There were several times when, as an Andover High School tennis coach, she wondered if any number of her female players would pass out on the court because they hadn't eaten all day.

"The scary thing about today compared to maybe 10 years ago is that it's the norm to have an eating disorder," said Ms. Goodman, who graduated from Andover High School in 1982. She coached the girls tennis team from 1986 to 1990.

"I have yet to meet a high school student who can't name a handful of friends or acquaintances who have some type of eating disorder," she said.

Budget discussions planned

FinCom hits police overtime; streets, buildings under-funded

By Don Staruk

The Finance Committee discussed the public safety budgets at its last meeting Wednesday, Feb. 10, and members were greatly concerned with a "huge overrun in overtime" in the police department, according to Don Robb, FinCom chairman.

The police department is already "well into" the overtime budgeted for this year and the committee's concerns right now are two-fold, Mr. Robb said.

The first question is how high the overtime expense will go this year and how is the anticipated overrun going to be made up in the budget? Second, is there anything to do to reduce it and if not, why isn't more budgeted to cover it?

The FinCom believes road maintenance is underfunded in the public works budget, according to Mr. Robb. In addition, he said lack of funding for the upkeep of buildings, once again, will be a major issue of discussion for the FinCom between now and town meeting.

The Board of Selectmen, School

Committee and FinCom have scheduled a number of discussions on the town's proposed $56 million fiscal budget between now and April 12 Town Meeting.

The FinCom had scheduled discussions on the library and public works budgets at its meeting scheduled for last night, Wednesday, Feb. 17, at town offices. Additional FinCom meetings are scheduled for Feb. 24 and March 3, 10 and 17.

The FinCom must complete its report for Town Meeting for the printer by March 22, but may meet after that to finish its Town Meeting business.

"We will probably meet at least once more in March. I don't know whether it will be the 24th or 31st," Mr. Robb said.

The FinCom meets Wednesdays, 7:30 p.m., at town offices.

More budget talk

Selectmen have regular Monday night meetings scheduled for Feb. 22 and March 1, 15 and 29. They may also meet March 8 and the first Monday in April if necessary, although no meetings are scheduled yet for those two dates, and they usually meet at 6 or 6:30 the night of town meeting.

Selectmen discussed the general government budget last week, Feb. 8, and will continue that discussion with a review of the public works and library budgets this Monday, Feb. 22, when the warrant articles will also be numbered. The budgets for Community Development and for Municipal Maintenance will be discussed at the March 1 meeting.

Discussion of individual warrant articles will begin on March 15, and the March 29 meeting will include public hearings on street acceptance proposals.

Selectmen meetings are held Mondays at 7:30 p.m. on the third floor of town offices.

Schools' budget

The School Committee is expected to discuss the schools' budget at its next regular meeting Tuesday, Feb. 23, and a joint discussion of that budget with selectmen and the FinCom will be administration building.

The subcommittee will make its recommendations on the schools' budget to the School Committee Feb. 23 at the school board's regular meeting. The subcommittee will meet again March 9 and join the School Committee for a public hearing on the schools' budget on Tuesday, March 16, at Andover High. No specific time has been set for that hearing.

The School Committee regularly meets at 7:30 p.m., on the second floor of the school administration building.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Rep. Coon plans local hours

State Rep. Gary Coon, R-Andover, will hold local office hours Wednesday, Feb. 24.

He will be in Room 144 at Northern Essex Community College, Lawrence campus, from 6-7 p.m.; and at Memorial Hall Library from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

He will be available to answer questions and discuss issues of concern to the constituents of his district. No appointment is necessary.

For further information call Rep. Coon's office at 617-722-2489.

... So does Senator O'Brien

State Senator John D. O'Brien, D-Andover, announces public town meetings.

The Andover Town Meeting will be held Thursday, Feb. 25, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library.

This meeting will provide an opportunity for residents to voice their concerns. Questions will be taken and topics of interest to the public will be discussed.

For more information, call the Statehouse, Room 520, at (617) 722-1612.

Lifeguard course begins March 1

The Greater Lawrence Technical School and the Merrimack Valley Red Cross are sponsoring a lifeguard training course starting March 1 at the 57 River Road pool site.

The course is targeted for area high school students during the time between winter and spring sports so they will be ready for summer lifeguard jobs.

Prerequisites include being able to swim continuously for 500 yards, being able to do a surface dive, an underwater swim and the ability to tread water. Candidates must be 15 years old before the first day of class. The course runs for two weeks daily from 2:45 to 5:30 p.m.

For registration forms call the Red Cross at 683-2465 or Marilyn Fitzgerald at the technical school, 686-0194.

League looks at educational issues

The League of Women Voters of Andover will hold two educational meetings centered around the following questions: Can we teach our children to care about becoming active, concerned and responsible citizens? Can the Andover public school system develop such attitudes in students? The League's education committee, chaired by Laurie Huberman, has a proposal for the town's curriculum steering committee.

The meetings will be held Tuesday, Feb. 23, at noon at Esther Parson's house, 104 Hidden Road, and Thursday, Feb. 25, 7:15 p.m. at Ginger Fleming's house, 42 Juniper Road. Participants should bring a bag lunch to the noon meeting.

All are invited to the meetings.

Group looks at school finances

The enlarged Andover Ad Hoc Finance Committee met in joint session with the School Committee Feb. 10 to continue its process of reviewing the financial aspects of the school department. After new members Steve Tankauskas, teacher at South School, and Robert Stoetzel, architectural engineer with KKO & Associates in Andover, were introduced, Ad Hoc Finance Committee Chairman Dick Muller recapitulated the committee's activities of the last several months.

"Speaking for the entire committee, I'm pleased to see that the SBC (School Building Committee) and the School Committee have responded to our urgings of delaying the elementary school building project until a comprehensive program can be formulated. Since September, we have been presenting information which shows there to be a need to deal with the financial implications of a new school on the town's ability and willingness to borrow and the implications a new school would have on the operating budget when it is obvious that the need for additional teachers is going to be a major issue soon," said Mr. Muller.

"The Ad Hoc Finance Committee will continue to press for the use of Shawsheen as part of the elementary school space needs problem while the committee examines the operating costs, the integrated bucket model for budgeting currently used, as well as the CIP portion of the town budget as it relates to the schools," he added.

The Ad Hoc Finance Committee prioritized its work to ensure an objective review of the school's finances and its relationship with the town would be accomplished before April Town Meeting.

Groups support those with eating disorders

The psychiatric services department of New England Memorial Hospital (NEMH) in Stoneham is offering time-limited support groups for individuals with anorexia or bulimia. Therapy groups explore the meaning that eating/not eating and bingeing and purging have assumed in a person's life.

Groups may be covered by a participant's health insurance plan.

For more information or to register, call Dr. Beth Pinals at (617) 979-7025.

Correction on water rate hike

Due to a reporting error in last week's Townsmen, an article on proposed water and sewer rate hikes incorrectly stated the impact of those increases on the average home in Andover. ["Water, sewer rates to go up," page 49, Feb. 11.]

The proposed 14-cent increase in the water rate, which would increase it from $2.33 per 100 cubic feet to $2.47, would mean an increase of $17 per year for an average four-member household that uses 12,000 cubic feet a year. A current bill of $279.60 would go up to $296.40.

The proposed sewer increase of 10 cents per 100 cubic feet, from $1.98 to $2.08, would mean an increase of $12 a year for the same household, from $237.60 to $249.60.

Generally, to figure the impact of the increase for any household, add 6 percent to the current water bill or 5 percent to the current sewer bill.

Officials are down to three finalists for Council on Aging director

By Lisa Boudreau

A new director of the Council on Aging, who also becomes director of the Senior Center, may be named as early as next week. Buzz Stapczynski, the town manager, will interview the three finalists this week, according to Candace Hall, director of personnel for the town.

The three finalists were chosen from a field of 112 applicants. Ms. Hall said the town manager is not ready to release the names of the three finalists because not all the candidates have been notified they are finalists. When the names are available, the Townsmen will publish the information.

Following the interviews with the three finalists, Mr. Stapczynski will meet with the screening committee, which chose the finalists, to discuss his impressions of the three, said Ms. Hall.

The screening committee is comprised of members of the town's Council on Aging and the Andover Haven Associates. After that meeting, Mr. Stapczynski will choose a director, said Ms. Hall. No deadline has been set for the selection.

Ms. Hall said the selection process for the director does not have to be a public process, "to the best of my knowledge."

(The Council on Aging is made up of appointed, not elected, members. They are appointed by the town manager.)

The person chosen will replace Mary Byrne-Potvin, who resigned the directorship in December after serving in that position for three years.

According to the job description published by the town's personnel department, the director's responsibilities include running the daily operations of the Senior Center, planning the agenda and attending the Council on Aging meetings.

The salary range offered by the town for the full-time position is between $32,504 and $41,476. Ms. Byrne-Potvin's salary was $32,248 last year. The new director's salary will be based on credentials and experience, said Ms. Hall.

Len Peltier wins his second Grammy nomination

By Lisa Boudreau
Andover native Len Peltier collected his second Grammy nomination for his creative art work.

Next Wednesday,

Feb. 24, Mr. Peltier, who now lives in California, will find out if his second nomination will lead to a second Grammy award. He won his first Grammy in 1991.

He is the son of Leonard and Ronnie Peltier of Downing Street.

Mr. Peltier is one of four people nominated this year in the art-direction and design-work category. The nomination is for his work on Suzanne Vega's latest compact disc, 99.9

Fahrenheit.

In 1991 he won a Grammy award for his art direction on another of Ms.

Vega's albums while he was employed by A&M Records.

Mr. Peltier is now vice president of Virgin Record's creative department. He currently is working with such musical artists as Ziggy Marley, Janet Jackson and Iggy Pop.

AHS students caught with pot

By Don Staruk

Three Andover High School students were suspended in two separate incidents last week and one will go to court after they were caught with, or admitted to, smoking marijuana at the school.

A 17-year-old girl, a minor who police did not name, will be summoned on a charge of possession, and two 15-year-old boys, also minors, will take part in the court diversion program after they admitted to smoking marijuana, or pot, on school grounds and were found with a small amount of the drug.

Police were first called to the school at about 10 a.m. Monday after a teacher went into a girls room suspecting pot was being smoked and saw one of several girls there put something in her jacket.

The girl allegedly had a pipe with marijuana resin in it, and a "very small amount" of marijuana, according to police.

She was suspended from school and will be summoned on the possession charge.

On Thursday, at 1:40 p.m., police were called back to the school after a teacher reported two students had been smoking marijuana outside a side door to the gym.

The two boys were brought to Assistant Principal Steve Richardson's office and one produced a portion of a "dime bag" of pot.

"The two students admitted smoking marijuana together," Sgt. Brian Pattullo said this week.

Police met with the boys' parents and will set up a court diversion program for the two juveniles.

The boys also were suspended, consistent with the school's policy, according to Mr. Richardson.

IF YOU SMOKE

Yes, we know everyone picks on smokers these days, and we know that it's a hard habit to kick, even if you want to. If you do smoke, and if your home is now for sale, making it a temporary smoke-free zone may help it sell more quickly.

Remember that of all the five senses, smell is one of the most powerful. People can walk into an otherwise fabulous house that is exactly what they want, and if it smells like an all night poker game, we just can't excite them. In fact, all they can think about is getting out into the fresh air. If you do smoke but don't want to use your house as an excuse to quit, keep it aired out. Try to smoke in other places; maybe on your back porch if the weather is good. If it's not try the garage or taking a drive. Avoid heavily scented room fresheners. Their smell on top of musty smoke can be worse than smoke alone. Wash off walls and consider having your drapes and upholstered furniture professionally cleaned. If you are not ready for Smoke Enders, at least try to end smoke inside your house until it sells.

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling real estate, talk to the experts at Century 21 Minuteman Realty. Come by our office at 2 Elm Square, or give us a call at 475-1243.

Why other banks can't compete with the Andover Advantage.

HASSLE 4.

They never give you a break on installment loans.

HASSLE 3.

They sock you with a "per check charge" for writing checks.

HASSLE 5.

They charge you full price for overdraft protection and line of credit.

HASSLE 2.

They make you buy checks for your "free" checking account.

HASSLE 6.

They charge an "annual fee" for your IRA.

HASSLE 1.

They make you pay extra to use your ATM card at a different bank.

HASSLE 7.

They make you buy travellers checks, treasurers checks and money orders.

Andover Bank has a whole new way of banking. We call it the Andover Advantage. Chances are you're being nickel and dined to pieces by your bank. But Andover Advantage customers have all the benefits and none of the hassles other banks give you.

The Andover Advantage combines no-minimum-balance checking, total convenience and a level of service that big bank customers can only dream about. Only Andover Bank gives you personal service that will never make you feel like a stranger — the kind of service that is missing from big, impersonal banks.

To find out more about the Andover Advantage, call our Hotline number listed below, or stop by any of our eight convenient Merrimack Valley offices. Discover how the Andover Advantage can make you the most important customer we'll ever have.

You qualify for the Andover Advantage when your deposit accounts (personal checking, savings, money market, CD's, and retirement) have a combined balance of $10,000 or more. Balance combines the average daily balance of checking and current balance of other linked accounts at statement date. A fee of $12 is charged if balance falls below $10,000.

BUSINESS

VNA gives awards

Phebe Goldman, executive director of the Home Health Foundation, 1 Union St., recently announced Customer Service Awards for the first quarter of 1993. The awards are given to recognize employees of the Home Health Foundation agencies who exemplify service excellence. The Home Health Foundation agencies include VNA HomeCare, Merrimack Valley Hospice and HomeCare Inc.

The following employees received recognition for the first quarter:

Lisa Bass, R.N., of Lawrence, is a visiting nurse for VNA HomeCare and has been with the agency since 1991. She provides home health care to adult patients in Lawrence. Her co-workers recognize her as an exceptionally competent and dedicated nurse. She is respected for her personal involvement with her patients and their families and for her ability to set and reach realistic goals involving their comprehensive care at home. Her time management skills allow her to consistently exceed agency productivity standards. She was also recognized for her involvement with the public relations department at VNA HomeCare and for helping coordinate patient case studies for feature articles in local newspapers.

Barbara Swain, rehabilitation department scheduler, joined VNA HomeCare in 1991. She was recognized for her skillfulness and efficiency in running the rehabilitation scheduling department. Mrs. Swain is responsible for scheduling 35 physical, occupational, and speech therapists for patient visits throughout the Merrimack Valley and Southern New Hampshire. She lives in Haverhill with her husband, Rick, and their two children.

Genevieve Scuncio, certified home health aide, has been with HomeCare Inc., a private-pay personal service provider, since April 1991. She was recognized for her exemplary work caring for patients in the home. Mrs. Scuncio provides live-in care for a patient in Lawrence eight to nine hours a day, three times a week and also cares for a terminally ill patient in Lawrence. She received the Customer Service Award for providing high quality care to each of her patients.

NECC business center focus on TQM

This month, Northern Essex Community College Center for Business & Industry began a four-part series of workshops on Total Quality Management (TQM) philosophies and start-up processes.

The first seminar, Beginning the Transformation to Companywide Quality, was held yesterday, Wednesday.

The second seminar, Deming's Theories of Management, will be offered Monday, Feb. 22. This workshop looks at Dr. W. Edwards Deming's 14 points for quality management, the fallacies of prevailing styles of management and an overview of his statistical methodology for controlling processes and improving product quality. Dr. Deming is credited with initiating the transformation to companywide quality and its win-win economics of cooperation both in the United States and Japan.

The series also includes these seminars: Using the Baldrige Award Criteria for TQM Startup or Company Assessment on March 15 and Implementing a Companywide TQM System on May 10 and 17.

The workshops will be held 6:30-9:30 p.m. in Room C218 at the Haverhill campus. Tuition for each one-day seminar is $35 and two-day seminars are $70. For registration, information or a brochure on the Center for Business & Industry's offerings, call Libby Jensen at 374-3816.

Working on the United Way of the Merrimack Valley campaign are, from left, Overall Chairman Paul Miller; Dave Hindle, chairman of the board; John Henderson, fund distribution chairman; and Ken Gallant, president. Last week the group celebrated its fundraising effort of $5.2 million for the 1992-'93 campaign. The annual campaign raised $5,208,294, which is a 7.6 percent decrease over the $5.6 million raised last year. United Way officials said a still-stagnant economy contributed to the decrease. Nearly 70 percent of local United Way contributions are given through employee gifts. That donor base has been reduced over the past 12 months, said officials.

RECYCLING

Cans can and must be recycled

By Virginia Cole

Recyclers and those who are about to be recyclers are becoming aware that cans can and must be recycled. The commonwealth has mandated that steel cans (we call them tin) are no longer allowed in Massachusetts incinerators. Our cans must be flattened and taken to the Recycling Pickup Center at the West Middle School parking lot on the third Saturday of each month. Hours 9-1. Feb. 20 is the next opportunity.

Instructions for cans are as follows: Clean, remove tops and bottoms and flatten. Labels need not be removed. If the cans have bottoms that are not easily removed by a can opener, then just flatten them as much as possible. I've heard stories of people having can-smashing times (Perhaps just with kids for fun) and others about a concern for a can-crushing machine. I just flatten them with my hand, with or without bottoms. I'm not a big weight lifter so if I can do it, everyone can.

If you haven't recycled plastic in the past, I hope you will begin. Plastic bottles with a No. 1 or a No. 2 on the bottom are recycled at the same place and time as the cans. Please clean and flatten them, too. People always want to know why. Clean them so they don't smell, in your house as well as when they are stored for shipment to a processing plant. Flatten them so they don't take up too much room both for you and the middleperson. And of course, the big why is to save raw materials, protect the environment and in the long run, save money. All your milk, juice and water bottles as well as detergent and some other containers can lessen the amount you send to the incinerator.

Aluminum is also recycled at West Middle School. That means any and all kinds of aluminum. Of course you know you can take your aluminum cans back to the grocery store for a refund, but if you don't want to, the town will take them on Feb. 20 and every third Saturday of each month.

These cans to be recycled are made of steel, even though we call them 'tin cans.'

Between 9 and 1 on these Saturdays, things can get pretty busy at this pickup site. Traffic can be difficult, peoples tempers can be short. The contractor is paid by the town. The volunteers are just that - people who believe in the cause and volunteer their time and energy to help. They will answer questions and get information for you if possible. And a thank-you would probably make their day.

As of now, this is the only way we citizens can legally dispose of aluminum materials and steel cans that are banned from the incinerator. I think we need another site and other times. If you think so, too, it would be great to hear about it.

School candidate to meet public

School Committee candidate Tim Dempsey will hold a discussion/doughnuts session Saturday, Feb. 20, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at West Middle School, at the recycling site.

Your Dental HEALTH

A STICKY SUBJECT

Tooth decay is a sticky subject with dentists. This is partly due to the fact that the public has a skewed sense of what foods are most responsible for tooth decay. When researchers at Boston's Forsythe Dental Center asked 300 people from across the U. S. to list 21 foods in order of their stickiness, the respondents rated such sugary foods as candies as the worst offenders. In fact, however, sugars tend to be washed out of the mouth by saliva well before carbohydrates. That is, cereals, crackers and cookies cling to the teeth far longer than candy. As a consequence, the complex carbohydrates in these foods provide a longer-sustaining source of food for bacteria which release enamel-eroding acids. As such, they deserve a much (and more) attention to brushing as candy.

Dental disease can be controlled if we control bacterial plaque activity on a daily basis. A toothbrush alone, however, no matter how often used, cannot do the job. It takes the conscientious effort of smart eating, brushing, flossing and professional visits to promote total oral health. If you need a family dentist to take care of all your dental needs, call us at 475-2431. Office hours here at 296 Lowell Street, Rt 133, with easy access off Rt 93, are Mon & Thur 10-8, Tues & Fri 8-6, and by appointment.

P.S. Failure to brush teeth at night after a starch-filled dinner provides a nighttime bounty for cavity-causing germs.

SCHOOLTALK

The North Andover 766 Parent Advisory Council invites all parents to a program on Tuesday, Feb. 23, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Middle School cafeteria.

Dr. Robert Kemper, a clinical licensed speech and language pathologist, will be the guest speaker. He has 11 years of experience in various administrative positions involving language acquisition and development, communication, speech and hearing within hospital, clinical and educational settings. Most recently, Dr. Kemper served as director of the North Shore Children's Hospital Speech Clinic and is in private practice in Salem.

Dr. Kemper has taught at Kent State and Salem State colleges. He has published articles and presented at lectures across the country on dealing with subtle language and attention-deficit disorder (ADD); evaluations of language and the learning-disabled; identification, assessment and intervention; reading problems and the role of speech and language pathologist; and the impact of learning disabilities on all aspects of a person's life.

Dr. Kemper also has experience in preschool and early childhood involvement with children severely communicatively-impaired and his expertise covers the life span of the language disabled.

A national Agriscience Outreach Workshop for agriculture and science teachers will be held March 20 at Essex Agricultural High School.

The workshop will bring together teams of science and agriculture teachers for the purpose of integrating science principles using real life agricultural applications. Teachers will discover how to make science more relevant to students and new ways of integrating science principles and research skills into their curriculum.

Participants will receive instructional materials for classroom use emphasizing fast plants and bottle biology as tools for teaching agriscience. Fast plants are a variety of Brassica rapa, which have a short life cycle of 35 days and a rapid response to environmental stimuli. These qualities make them excellent for classroom teaching.

This working partnership enhances the opportunities for teachers to return to their schools, share resources, and improve the scientific and agricultural literacy of their students.

For enrollment details, call or write instructors Janice Gershlak or Theresa Nowicki at the school.

Bancroft School is in the midst of celebrating music month. Grades 1-3 were entertained Tuesday, Feb. 2, by Epic Brass Quintet. Students learned the characteristics of five brass instruments and participated in guessing which instrumental sound was being heard while musicians faced away from the group. The show concluded with a foot-stomping rendition of "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy." Epic Brass was sponsored in part by the Massachusetts Cultural Council and Bancroft PTO Cultural and Academic Enrichment Committee.

Harpichordist James Nicholson will visit the fourth and fifth lofts Thursday, Feb. 25. He will play the Flemish double virginal, an extremely rare instrument, using a 16th- and 17th-century repertoire of music. His performance will be interspersed with commentary and he encourages dialogue with students. Mr. Nicholson will be partially funded by the Andover Cultural Council and the Bancroft PTO Cultural and Academic Enrichment Committee.

The annual seventh-grade inventions' contest at Pike School took place Wednesday, Feb. 10. This event is an opportunity for youngsters to show their imagination. Inventors may work alone or with classmates in creating their entries. Items for the judges range from the serious to humorous and prizes are awarded accordingly.

Vanessa Ho and Toni Karbe teamed up to design a locker organizer, which won the award for being the most artistic invention. A slingshot that doubled as binoculars, created by Lazz Kramer and Dan Kulp, was recognized as the most versatile entry.

Adam Brown won the most marketable award for his bendable driveway marker comprised of two metal rods and a spring, which will give it hit by a snowplow. Scott Robinson won the prize for the laziest invention. His reading bookholder allows the user to lie in bed and read without holding the book. The dipiest invention was Molly MacKean's tea bag dipper, which allows a person to insert and remove a tea bag from hot water without using fingers. Peter Buccella, Weston Lowrie and Gabe Wayne collaborated on a solar-powered alarm, which spills a cup of water on someone when the sun comes up. They received the all-wet prize. The electric spaghetti fork, which twirls to wrap pasta around its tines, earned the unforgettable prize for its inventors, Hasan Erdem and Sean McGrath. Bethany Caruso and Lisa DiGaetano collaborated on a hook-it game, which involves players snagging a cloth projectile in a hooked scoop. They were awarded the prize for the best game in town.

This year's judges were Headmaster David Frothingham and Admission Director Judy Camber.

Seventy-eight students and eight adults from Pike School will leave tomorrow, Friday, Feb. 19, after school for a weekend of skiing at Sunday River in Bethel, Maine.

Skiers will travel by bus to their lodging in Gorham, N.H.

Saturday and Sunday are to be two full days of skiing. A pizza dinner on Saturday will be followed by swimming. The group will return to Andover on Sunday.

The ski trip is an annual event for Pike

◀ Rob Taylor returned to Bancroft School recently with his personal stories about climbing Kilimanjaro, Africa's highest mountain, a second time. Here, he describes how his group avoided being attacked by a lion by grouping together to fool the lion into thinking it was one larger animal, rather than four individual prey. At right, he demonstrates his specialized equipment to the Bancroft students, such as the pick ax he used to climb a giant icicle. His talks teach goal-setting and believing in oneself.

 The Solomon Schechter Day School of the Merrimack Valley, 514 Main St., Haverhill, will sponsor a preschool enrichment series for children ages 2½ to 5 and their parents. A snack will be served and parents must accompany their children.

"Planes, Trains and Automobiles" is the theme next Thursday, Feb. 25, from 9 to 10:30 a.m. The morning will consist of "transportation" games, stories, songs and fingerplays. Children will also design and fly airplanes.

Children and their parents can participate in "A Day at the Circus" Wednesday, March 17, from 9 to 10:30 a.m. The children can try out circus acrobatics on mats, make a clown mask and have their faces painted. Although there is no fee, space is limited. Call Shoshana Bulba at 372-4140 for more information and to register.

The school, in conjunction with Temple Emanuel Religious School, is also sponsoring a free parenting series at Temple Emanuel, at the same address. "How Do You Raise a Mensch?" is the topic for Tuesday, Feb. 23. Children may excel in academics, sports or the arts, but how can parents be assured they will also be mensches, kind and generous human beings? Judaic administrator and first/second grade teacher Gail Korinow will use original sources to demonstrate how Jewish tradition views this topic.

The March 16 program will focus on "Fostering Creative and Critical Thinking." When a child is told to turn off the television, then all electronic games, a parent has to cope with the ensuing arguments. How can this negative scenario be transformed into an educational opportunity? Upper grades teacher Arleen Wien will discuss strategies that can enhance a child's creative critical thinking. Both programs begin at 7:30 p.m. and pre-registration is not required. For information, call Ms. Bulba at 372-4140.

 The Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary

staff and volunteers will begin both school field trip and family weekend tours of the sanctuary's maple sugaring operation on Tuesday, Feb. 23. Schoolchildren and families will tour the sanctuary, learn about maple syrup production and get a taste at the end of each tour. School tours will take place Tuesday through Friday, Feb. 23 - March 12, at 9:30 and 11 a.m. (Preschool and kindergarten classes are scheduled for tours Wednesday through Friday, Feb. 24 - March 12, at 10 a.m. and also at 1 p.m. on Wednesdays only). Scout tours are scheduled for Wednesdays, Feb. 24, March 3 and 10 at 4 p.m.

Family tours will take place on Saturdays and Sundays, Feb. 27-28, and March 6-7 and 13-14. Saturday tours are at 10 a.m., 12:30 and 2:30 p.m.; Sunday tours are at 12:30 and 2:30 p.m. The Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary is located at 87 Perkins Row, Topsfield. For more information, call the sanctuary at 887-9264.

New Deal Photography exhibition at NECC this month

"Official Images: New Deal Photography," 80 photographs recorded during the Depression years by photographers commissioned by five government relief agencies, will be featured at the Northern Essex Community College Gallery through Friday, Feb. 26.

The exhibit will include images of farmers, children, young men and women working in agency programs, older Americans and striking workers in rural and urban settings. President Franklin Roosevelt's "New Deal" to the American people in 1933 promised domestic revival to a country hard hit by the effects of the Great Depression. Photography was used to promote the rural distress that led to Roosevelt's agricultural and other relief measures and the goals and effects of government agency programs.

This exhibition not only presents a substantial body of documentary photography, but also raises important questions about the use of "official" photographs, those commissioned by the government relief agencies, to promote agency goals of economic and social recovery. For example, while photographs of blacks and women are far more visible in the publicity of the National Youth Administration, a reflection of that agency's liberalism, in fact, white males received training for better paying industrial and office jobs while white females were encouraged to be housewives, and blacks, male and female, were employed in low-paying service positions.

"The exhibit clearly shows people caught in a time of crisis and change," says Arthur Signorelli, NECC Gallery and student activities director. "The images show both the old and the new, the hope, dejection, pride and ambivalence typical of that era."

Located in the Bentley Library, the Northern Essex Community College Gallery is open to the public from 10 a.m. to noon on Saturday and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

For weekday hours and further information, call Mr. Signorelli at 374-3706.

Alison Saar: Sculpture, Wall Works and Artist Books, through March 14

Alison Saar grew up in California. Her mother is a well-known painter and sculptor; her father, an expert art restorer. As a child, she was exposed to a broad range of historical and contemporary art, visual expressions that drew from nearly all cultures: Europe, Africa, the Middle East, Haiti, the Orient and the Americas. As a person of mixed race, Ms. Saar evolved her own personal notion of "multi-culturalism" early in life, a world view crucial to her complex identity as a precocious artist. She learned a variety of crafts from her parents, how to draw, make frescoes, carve, sew, paint and fabricate objects, and honed her skills and thinking while studying at Scripps College and the Otis Art Institute.

Her first solo show was at the Jan Baum Gallery in Los Angeles in 1983. A number of her earliest wall-works and artist books from this period have been assembled for this exhibition. They are shown in conjunction with more recent figurative sculpture. During her six-week artist in residency project at Phillips Academy

Artists' Guild to demonstrate oil painting

The Andovers Artists' Guild will feature Oscar Durand demonstrating a painting in oil on canvas Sunday, Feb. 21.

Mr. Durand was educated at the Manchester Institute of Arts and Sciences. His painting has evolved over the years from a traditional style. Influenced by the works of John Singer Sargent, he began using strong directional light and color relationships. Then as more contemporary artists interested him, he developed the use of glazes and opposing color relationships, leading to a softer aspect to his

Mr. Durand's current work contains the elements of still life, portrait and landscapes in combination with one another though his style remains sharp focus realism.

Mr. Durand has received several awards and is represented in many collections in Massachusetts and New Hampshire. He is a member of the North Shore Art Association and the Copley Society, Boston.

The meeting begins at 2 p.m. in North Parish Church, Olde North Andover Center. There is a $2 fee for non-members and refreshments will be served.

Understanding Chiropractic

REMOTE POSSIBILITIES

A patient might expect that a misalignment (subluxation) of a joint in the spine might cause localized pain, tenderness, numbness, and tingling. However, how could a spinal subluxation cause, for instance, an intestinal problem? The answer to this question lies with the fact that nerves emanating from the brain exit through the spine to exert influence on organs and tissues in various parts of the body. If one of these nerves were to be "pinched" as a result of a misaligned spinal bone, the flow of nerve energy to its intended site would be restricted. If there were a subluxation of a spinal joint in the lower (lumbar) spine, it is possible that the large intestine may be affected. Thus a misalignment of a back joint may be responsible for so-called "remote" symptoms.

If you have health problems, we hope you will consider chiropractic. We will evaluate, examine and confer with you before any recommended treatment is begun. For more information, please call DELORENZO CHIROPRACTIC GROUP, 475-5042, for an appointment. We offer natural and safe care for the entire family and accept only those patients we sincerely feel we can help. Our office is located at 15 Central Street.

P.S. Spinal joint misalignment may also be responsible for organic disease due to impairment of nerve flow.

'Women and the Power of the Media' to feature Marlene Sanders

"Women and the Power of the Media" is the title of a one-day conference for classroom teachers and museum educators to be held at the Lowell Sheraton on Wednesday, March 3. Marlene Sanders, visiting professor of journalism at New York University and program director for Women, Men and Media, will begin the conference with a keynote address, "The Changing World of Television News: Is It Better for Women?" Workshops throughout the day will focus on strategies for teaching students to think critically about media representations and the impact of popular culture on issues of race, class and gender.

Ms. Sanders is author of Waiting for Prime Time: The Women of Television News. Her career as a television journalist spans more than 30 years and includes such milestones as first woman to anchor an evening newscast, cover the war in Vietnam and serve as network news vice president. She will speak about the history of women in television news, efforts to organize and how dramatic changes in the business have affected women's status today.

Morning and afternoon workshops will focus on new resources and strategies for teaching about women and media and will be presented by elementary and secondary school teachers from throughout New England. Workshops include, "Grandma, What Did You do During World War II?"; "Women in Art: Multicultural Visions"; "Challenging Media Images of Women and Girls"; "Representation of Women in Film"; "Deconstructing Pornography as a Mode of Representation"; "From Murphy Brown to Rosanne: How Prime-Time TV Shapes and Creates

Women's Perceptions"; and "Community Access Television: Young Women Bringing

Their Visions to Television." A park tour, "A Place of One's Own," will be offered.

Advance registration is required and the cost is $25.

Hadassah meeting celebrates Purim and its 81st birthday

The Northern New England Region of Hadassah will hold its mid-winter meeting Sunday, March 7, at the Andover Marriott, celebrating Purim and Hadassah's 81st birthday. Dessert will be at 6:30 p.m. with the meeting at 7. Lenny Zakim, New England Region executive director of the Anti-Defamation League, and Sarabeth Lukin, Hadassah's national chairman of Curriculum Watch, will be the guest speakers.

The cost is $6 and reservations should be sent to Hadassah, 451 Andover St., Suite 304, North Andover, Mass. 01845, by March 1. For more information, call 688-2627.

Universalism turns 200 at UU, church courses are underway

The Rev. Peter T. Richardson will preach on Universalism at Andover U.U. Church, 6 Locke St., at the 10:30 a.m. worship Sunday to mark the 200th anniversary of organized Universalism in America.

While many Universalists had formed churches well before the American Revolution, a national association was formed in 1793. Many famous Americans have been Universalists, including Ethan Allen, Benjamin Rush, Mary Livermore, Olympia Brown, P.T. Barnum, Horace Greeley and Clara Barton. Universalists founded Tufts and St. Lawrence universities and many other schools.

Twentieth-century Universalism has evolved as a globally based "religion for one world," drawing from the many religions around the world.

The children's story time near the beginning of the service will describe the landing of Rev. John Murray in 1770.

The Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover invites the public to "Cakes for the Queen of Heaven, A Feminist Theology" Mondays, Feb. 22 - May 3, from 7 to 10 p.m. The course traces the history of goddess worship, looking at why women need the goddess and explores/reclaims the female presence within present-day religions.

A course called "Literate Unitarian Universalists" that studies the origin and evolution of the religion during nearly 2,000 years in Europe and America is underway. Call Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover at 475-4454 for time and place.

OBITUARIES

David Darling Industrial engineer

David Lane Darling, 84, a descendant of early governors of Massachusetts, including Gov. Simon Bradstreet of North Andover, died Saturday, Feb. 13, in Andover.

Mr. Darling's wife, the former Beverly Jones, said her husband was very patient throughout his illness. He suffered from multiple sclerosis.

"He was a very outstandingly honest person and kind," said Mrs. Darling.

Mr. Darling lived in Andover and Squirrel Island, Maine.

He was born in Gardiner, Maine, and had lived in Andover since 1946.

He graduated from Peekskill Military Academy in New York and Harvard University in 1932.

Mr. Darling was a former member of the Harvard Club and the North Andover Country Club.

He was an industrial engineer with Davis & Furber Machine Co. in North Andover and then with Sylvania for many years, until multiple sclerosis forced his early retirement in 1953.

He was an accomplished photographer and was an avid sailor. He was a longtime choir member and soloist at Christ Episcopal Church.

Family members include his wife, Beverly (Jones) Darling, head of Darling Associates Inc., an Andover real estate firm; daughter, Beverly Lane Hoffman of Westwood; sons, Marshall J. Darling of Andover and David Darling Jr., of Manhattan, Kan., and 10 grandchildren.

He was also father of the late Martha Darling Drake, formerly of Durham, N.H.

Services will be held Saturday, Feb. 20, at 11 a.m. at Christ Church, 25 Central St. Burial is private. There are no calling hours.

Arrangements are by Dewhirst & Conte Funeral Home, 17 Third St., North Andover.

Memorial contributions may be made to Multiple Sclerosis Research Center, Brigham & Women's Hospital, 75 Francis St., Boston, Mass. 02115.

Hazel W. Painter Sister in Andover

Hazel W. (White) Painter, 75, of Winter Springs, Fla., died Monday, Feb. 1.

Mrs. Painter was born in Methuen and moved to central Florida in 1980. She lived at Hacienda Village.

Mrs. Painter was a traffic manager for a radio station.

She was a member of Tusku-willa United Methodist Church and also belonged to the Longwood Tourist Club, Mary Martha Circle, Super Seniors and Women's Club of Hacienda Village.

Members of her family include her husband, John H. Painter of Winter Springs, Fla.; son, John D. Painter of Roselle, N.J.; brother, Leslie White of Waldorf, Md.; sisters, Barbara Woodworth of Andover and Ruth Bell of Clearwater; and one grandson.

Services were held in Winter Springs. Arrangements were by the Baldwin-Fairchild Funeral Home of Altamonte Springs, Fla.

Maureen Scott N.E. Bible Church member

Maureen (Dowd) Scott, 38, of Georgetown, died Wednesday, Feb. 10, of a heart attack at Beverly Hospital.

She was born in Maryland and was a service coordinator for the Department of Mental Retardation.

She was a member of New England Bible Church in Andover.

Members of her family include a son, Jonathan Scott of Georgetown; daughter, Alexandria Scott of Georgetown; brothers, Robert Dowd of Silver Springs, Md., and David Dowd of Mechanicsville, Md.; sister, Kathy Denhardt of Fallen Waters, W. Va.; several nieces and nephews.

Services were Monday at the Dewhirst & Conte Funeral Home, 17 Third St., North Andover.

Burial and calling hours were private and at the convenience of the family.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Jonathan and Alexandria Scott Living Memorial Fund, in care of New England Bible Church, 16 Haverhill St., Andover, Mass. 01810.

Alexander Blamire Attended Andover schools

Alexander M. "Bud" Blamire Jr., 72, of Andover died Tuesday, Feb. 9, at King Edward VII Memorial Hospital in Bermuda.

Mr. Blamire was educated in Andover schools and graduated from Punchard High School in 1938. He attended Bentley College and received a bachelor of arts degree in accounting.

He retired in 1979 from the Andrew Wilson Co. of Lawrence as an accountant.

He was an aerial gunner during World War II in the Army Air Force Division. He earned the rank of staff sergeant and received a Purple Heart.

He was a former member of the Lodge of Andover and was past district governor of Wisemen of YMCA.

He was an active member of St. John Episcopal Church in Portsmouth, N.H.

Family members include his wife, Gretchen Blamire of Andover; daughters, Joanne Barnhardt of Tustin, Calif., and Jean Sousa of North Attleboro; and four grandchildren.

He was the brother of the late Leonard Blamire and stepbrother of the late Ralph Marshall.

Services were held Saturday at Farmer & Dee Funeral Home, 16 Lee St., Tewksbury. Burial was in Tewksbury Cemetery.

OBITUARIES

Island, N.Y., in 1944 as a postulant for the Order of St. Augustine.

He was received into the Augustinian novitiate in New Hamburg, N.Y., in September 1947, professing his first vows in 1948 and his solemn vows three years later.

Father Elliott received his bachelor's degree in philosophy from Villanova University in 1952 and studied theology at Augustinian College in Washington, D.C., from 1952 until 1956.

While in Washington he also pursued graduate studies in economics at the Catholic University of America. He was ordained to the priesthood on Oct. 28, 1955, at St. Nicholas of Tarentine Church in the Bronx, N.Y.

From 1956 until 1970 Father Elliott taught at Monsignor Bonner High School in Drexel Hill, Pa. He became headmaster at Austin Preparatory School in Reading in 1970. He later returned to Msgr. Bonner as director of studies. In 1979 he was appointed prior and treasurer of Augustinian College.

Father Elliott came to Lawrence in 1986 to serve as associate pastor of St. Mary Immaculate Conception Parish. One year later he was asked to return to the secondary education apostolate at St. John Neuman High School in Golden Gate, Fla. He returned to St. Mary Immaculate Conception in 1988 and he was assigned to St. Augustine Church in Andover in 1992 as associate pastor.

Family members include his sisters, Roseanne Hartman of Columbus, N.J.; Mary Warner and Sr. Mary Lavin, R.S.M., of Point Pleasant, N.J.; brothers, Thomas Elliott, his twin, and Patrick Elliott of Absecon, N.J.

A funeral Mass was celebrated Monday at St. Augustine Church. Burial will be in Community Cemetery in Pennsylvania.

Arrangements were by Edgerley & Bessom Andover Funeral Home, 33 Pearson St., Andover.

Memorial contributions may be made to St. Mary School or the Augustinian Missions, c/o St. Augustine Church, 43 Essex St., Andover.

Shirley S. Wodarski Former Andover resident

Shirley S. (Lougee) Wodarski, 64, of Salem, N.H., died Thursday, Feb. 11, at her home.

She was born in Lowell, daughter of the late Everett and Frances (Stiles) Lougee. She attended Lowell schools and worked for several years as a nurse aide in the Greater Lawrence area.

Mrs. Wodarski had been a resident of Salem since 1986 and previously lived at 11 Woburn St. in Andover.

Services were held Tuesday at the Douglas and Johnson Funeral Home, 214 Main St. Burial followed in Pine Grove Cemetery.

At the request of the family, there were no calling hours.

Hyman Kahan Son in Andover

Hyman Kahan of Quincy died Saturday, Feb. 13, at the Hebrew Rehabilitation Center for Aged.

Born in Chelsea, he attended Plymouth High School. During the 1940s, Mr. Kahan worked on the USS Constitution as a welder at the Boston Navy Yard. He was a plumber's helper for Lebowitz Brother Plumbing Co. in Lawrence before retiring in 1975.

Mr. Kahan was a member of the Congregation Anshe Sfarad in Lawrence and Temple B'nai Shalom in Braintree.

He was the widower of Beatrice (Gelt) Kahan.

Services were Monday at the Stanetsky Memorial Chapel, 1668 Beacon St., Brookline. Burial was in Tifereth Anshe Sfarad Cemetery in Lawrence.

Memorial observances will continue through Friday, Feb. 19, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Goodman in Quincy.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Hebrew Rehabilitation Center for Aged, 1200 Centre St., Roslindale, Mass. 02131.

this winter, Ms. Saar will work to create new pieces for her upcoming solo exhibitions at the Hirshhorn and High Museums of Art and this year's Whitney Museum of American Art Biennial Exhibition.

This exhibition and artist residency have been supported by the Addison Gallery, Edward Elson Artist in Residence Fund and the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency.

Mary Ellen Mark: 25 Years, a nationally touring exhibition of more than 100 black-and-white photographs by documentary photographer and photojournalist Mary Ellen Mark; through April 25.

This exhibit includes photographs of rural America, heroin addicts in London and portraits of street children all over the world. It also includes Mary Ellen Mark's remarkable new pictures made while traveling with 16 circuses throughout India in 1989 and 1990.

During her 25-year career, Ms.

Mark has focused on the "unfamous." From blind children in the Ukraine to circus performers in India or homeless teenagers in the United States, she captures her subjects with compassion and dignity.

The exhibition and its tour were organized by the International Museum of Photography at George Eastman House with the support of the professional photography division of Eastman Kodak Co. and coordinated by Marianne Fulton, senior curator of exhibitions and photographic collections at Eastman House.

The exhibition premiered at the International Center of Photography, Midtown, New York, N.Y., and has appeared at the Chrysler Museum, Norfolk, Va.; International Museum of Photography at George Eastman House, Rochester, N.Y.; Chicago Cultural Center, Chicago, Ill.; Museum of Photographic Arts, San Diego, Calif. The exhibition will travel to the Seattle Art Museum in Seattle, Wash; Toledo Museum of Art, Toledo, Ohio; National Museum of Women in the Arts, Washington, D.C.; and an international edition is scheduled to appear at the Instituto de Estudios Norteamericanos, Barcelona, Spain; and at the Center de la Photographie, Paris.

Ms. Mark began her photographic career in 1965 with a Fulbright scholarship to photograph in Turkey. Upon her return to New York a year later, she began documenting anything that interested her: Central Park; demonstrations; the early days of the women's movement; bodybuilders; a marriage broker on 42nd Street; and the Psychedelic Burlesque.

She was asked to produce stills for the movie, "Alice's Restaurant," in 1967. Since then she has worked on dozens of movies, including "The Day of the Locust," "Apocalypse Now," "The Missouri Breaks," "Ragtime," "Silkwood," "Carnal Knowledge," "Catch-22" and "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

In her most recent project, the Indian Circus, her photographs reveal the texture of circus life. Close-up portraits of acrobats and animals take precedence over long shots of the camp. She went into the ring or into the cage with a bear, or stood in the center of the ring as the lions roared and jumped through hoops. This approach has given her photographs much impact.

Ms. Mark has received three National Endowment for the Arts grants and numerous photography awards.

The Addison Gallery is open Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m.-5 p.m., and Sunday, 1-5 p.m.

Re-design of Shawsheen Square draws fire

from Route 495 was part of that project. Both the design and the work is being paid for with state and federal funds, which is good because the town gets the work for free, but is bad because it limits the amount of input the town has in the final design.

Two weeks ago William Gregsak, engineer for Gregsak Engineering Inc. of Chester, N.H., showed selectmen what he thought was the final design for the project, but found a lot of opposition to three aspects of the proposal from board members and other town officials at the meeting. The design has been under study since 1990, and public hearings on the plans have been held.

The project would:

- Widen North Main Street for five lanes, adding a third lane in both directions for left turns only;
- Remove the median island on North Main Street, and align the southbound lanes so they don't bend as much in the square;

- Widen Haverhill Street and add a third lane, for a right turn only, going west into the square.

Selectmen opposed a pedestrian island that would be built in front of Lawrence Savings Bank, to break up a crosswalk from the Woodworth Motors side of Haverhill Street to the Andover Hockey Shop side of Lowell Street.

They also opposed a "bubble" of sidewalk that would stick out into the intersection from the south side of Lowell Street to shorten the crosswalk on North Main Street and to protect the bus stop on North Main Street.

The third item with which at least a couple of selectmen found fault was the lack of a curb along North Main Street in front of the Woodworth Motors parking lot.

"I know that even though we don't have a say in it, we'll get blamed for it," Charles Wesson, chairman of the selectmen, said last week.

Laura Hill, town planner, said on Tuesday of this week that all town department heads held an interdepartmental review of the project this week and each detail and every reason for change to the intersection was looked at and explained.

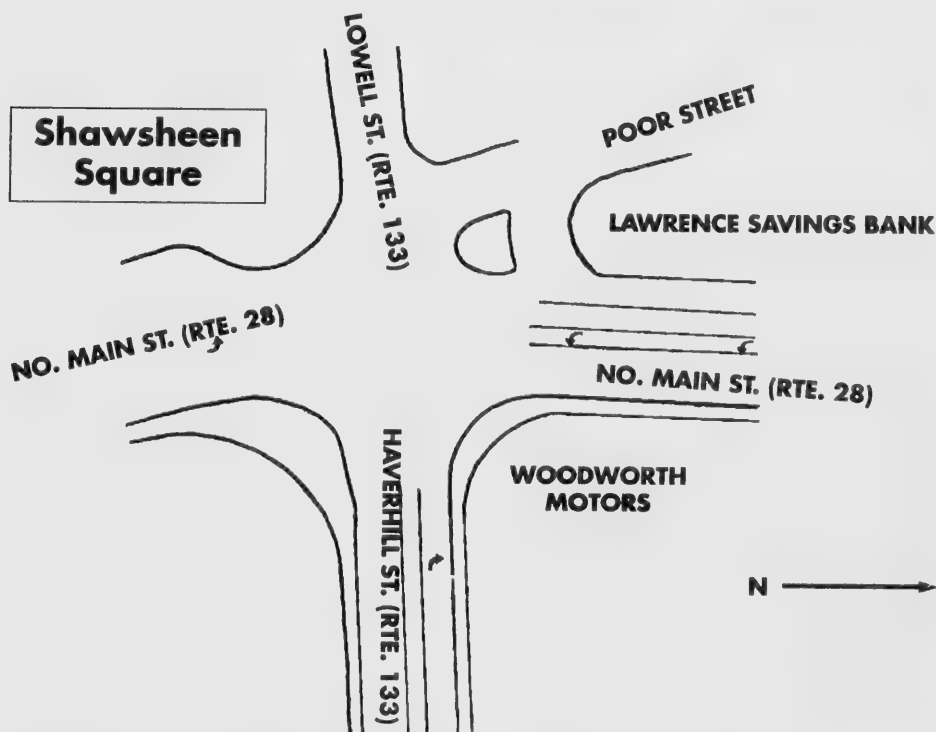

Ms. Hill said that she was planning to meet with state engineers today, Thursday, to go through the concerns with them. But, barring any unexpected decisions by the state, Ms. Hill said she expected to bring the same plan selectmen saw two weeks ago back to them, with further explanations, this Monday night.

If there are no further delays, construction will start in the spring, according to Mr. Gregsak.

Northbound traffic, moving toward Lawrence, negotiates Shawsheen Square as it currently is laid out. Proposed changes to the square would add a third lane on both the North and Southbound lanes of North Main Street.

Selectmen are scheduled to review the above re-design plan for Shawsheen Square Monday, Feb. 22, at their regular meeting. Selectmen have taken issue with part of the proposal, including a heel-shaped traffic island in the middle of the intersection, in front of Lawrence Savings Bank. They also don't like the "bubble" of sidewalk extending out from Lowell Street into the square and the lack of curbing for a section of the Woodworth Motors side of North Main Street.

'It's the norm to have an eating disorder'

Ms. Goodman said there are pros and cons to the increased awareness today of eating disorders. It is good, she said, because an educated community is more likely to notice a teen in the early stages of a disorder before it becomes life threatening. But it is bad, she said, because many teens don't take extreme dieting or compulsive eating behaviors as seriously as they should.

In the past several years, Ms. Goodman has worked with teens and young adults, mostly females, who have eating disorders, and their families. She is a staff member of General Psychological Associates on Park Street.

She recently wrote a book, Is Your Child Dying to be Thin, designed not only for people with eating disorders, but also for their families.

On average, one out of five high school girls has some form of eating disorder, according to Ms. Goodman. The number jumps to one in four college-age women. She defines an eating disorder as a problem wherein people use food as a source of restriction or gratification, reward or punishment. In most cases, if one's eating habits are interfering with one's daily life, there is a good chance that person has an eating disorder, she said.

About five to 10 percent of teens with eating disorders are male. She said most of those are athletes who diet to get down to required competition weight.

The three major eating disorders Ms. Goodman sees in her patients are anorexia nervosa, bulimia and compulsive overeating.

Anorexia is a syndrome of self-induced weight loss through restriction or starvation and the refusal to maintain a normal weight for corresponding age and height.

Bulimia is characterized by eating large amounts of food in short periods of time and purging the food through vomiting, using laxatives or diuretics or excessive exercise.

Compulsive overeating is similar to bulimia, but there is no act of purging.

Eating disorders are symptoms of underlying problems, Ms. Goodman said. To help address the problems, Ms. Goodman has organized support groups for victims of eating disorders.

The first group is for adolescents with eating disorders. Members do not have to be her client to join the group. It will begin meeting next Thursday, Feb. 25, from 6 to 7:30 p.m. at her office at 68 Park St. There is a fee and there are limited spaces available.

The second support group is a free-of-charge group for parents of eating disorder victims. It will meet the first Monday of each month. To sign up for either group or for more information call Ms. Goodman at her office.

Supporting the parents

"There is a real sense of helplessness for parents," she said.

"I know I felt it as a coach. I often wondered if I let a girl play, is she going to collapse on the court?"

Ms. Goodman, who has a bachelor's degree and a master's degree in psychotherapy from Boston College, said she is introduced to patients in a variety of ways. Many times school guidance counselors call her regarding students about whom they are concerned.

She also receives referrals from doctors. Other times parents or friends will call her about adolescents exhibiting signs of eating disorders.

"Not too many adolescents call themselves," she said.

Before her first session with patients, Ms. Goodman mails out a questionnaire regarding personal history and eating habits. She said allowing patients to answer the questions in private is much less threatening.

"I also give them a chance to interview me. Many times they come here at the most vulnerable time in their lives. It is really important to empower them and give them a chance to be part of the process," she said.

The first step in Ms. Goodman's approach to dealing with eating disorders is to refer a patient to a nutritionist and to get their eating under control. Sometimes a client is also referred to a physician. The second step is to address the underlying cause of the eating disorder.

Ms. Goodman believes there are five main factors in developing an eating disorder: societal pressures to be thin; psychological factors such as low self esteem and feelings of inadequacy; lifestyle factors such as a lack of healthy stress-management techniques; stress such as a death, divorce or break up of a meaningful relationship; and finally, family and developmental problems such as fear of growing up, leaving home and pressures to become sexual.

Ms. Goodman's approach also includes family sessions on a regular basis. She said her book was born out of her own frustration at not being able to suggest a resource for parents to turn to.

"When a child has a problem, the whole family is affected," she said.

Jennifer talks about how it happened to her

People have to understand, said Jennifer, that the most important thing about an eating disorder is the way a person thinks about food, and not just their physical appearance.

Jennifer's disorder progresses

Jennifer said she began dieting when she was 12. Three years ago, she dieted and lost about 13 pounds. She said it was the first successful diet she'd ever been on.

According to Jennifer, the atmosphere at Andover High School is ripe for producing eating disorders.

"My friends always say stuff. The girls will notice and make comments if they think someone has gained two pounds. There is just so much pressure to be stick skinny."

"Guys would say stuff like, 'Oh you look so fat today.' I knew they were teasing, but the guys have no idea how that made me feel," she said.

When Jennifer lost the initial

Here's a list of symptoms of eating disorders

The following list of symptoms to look for in teen-agers who may be suffering from eating disorders was taken from Ms. Goodman's book, Is Your Child Dying to be Thin, and is published here with the author's permission.

Does your child:

- Get cold easily?
- Have an obsession with calories?
- Restrict certain foods?
- Wear baggy clothing?

- Take diet pills, diuretics or laxatives?
- Steal or hide food?
- Have broken blood vessels in her eyes or face?
- Eat for emotional reason or in excess?

weight, her parents told her what a great job she had done and said that they were proud. She said all these factors motivated her to lose more weight.

At first she cut down on what she ate, but she reached a point where she couldn't lose any more pounds.

"I began not eating for the day and then eating dinner with my family because I had to," she said.

Jennifer said she was beginning to get frustrated and was feeling "deprived" of all the foods she loved to eat, especially sweets. It was that point when she started making herself vomit up the food she would binge on to satisfy her food cravings.

"The first time I was bulimic, I did it under the impression that I would only do it until I lost the last amount of weight I wanted. I had it all planned out, but it didn't work that way," she said.

Her bingeing and purging wasn't regular, but on many occasions she'd skip eating altogether for several days. She'd then eat half a box of cereal, several scoops of ice cream and then force herself to throw it up.

"It wasn't a daily thing. I went for three weeks sometimes without doing it and then maybe three days in a row doing it again," she said.

Jennifer believes low self esteem and a tendency to be a perfectionist lead her to becoming anorexic and bulimic.

"When you don't feel good on an internal level you tend to grasp onto external things like your weight. I thought life would be perfect if I lost office and asked to speak with the manager. He was carrying a small, blue nylon bag, "like a fanny pack," according to Detective Donald Pattullo.

The man, still standing, set the bag down in the manager's office and handed the manager a note. The note was supposedly from a "bad guy" who was in a car out in the parking lot watching everything that was going on and listening to a police scanner. It said that if the manager did everything the note said, no one would get hurt.

"If you give me any reason to think otherwise, I'll detonate the bag I sent him in with," the note said.

The manager, Michael Nash, told police later he assumed the nylon bag had contained coins or something else that the man wanted to deposit. Now he knew it was supposedly a bomb.

The note also said the "bad guy" was holding this man's wife and daughter and that they would also be killed if the manager set off an alarm or called police. The note directed the manager to put $10,000 in 100-, 50- and 20-dollar bills in a bag.

The manager called his main office in Lawrence and was told to follow the instructions.

"So he did it and the man left," Detective Pattullo said.

The man had told the manager that the bad guy was sitting in a white Volvo station wagon that was parked in the Shawsheen Plaza parking lot over near Whyte's Cleaners. The bank employees did not watch the man leave, but a minute or so later did see a white Volvo wagon pulling out of the plaza lot to head north on Route 28.

Police arrived a minute or two later, but the man was gone. They had been called by the Lawrence office of the bank.

The bank building and adjacent businesses were evacuated and police roped off the parking lots while they waited for a state police bomb squad to come examine the blue bag. Two agents from the FBI's bank robbery division also responded to the bank.

The bomb expert was in Mashpee and didn't arrive until almost 5 p.m. because of the snowstorm. When the expert did arrive, the device turned out to be a fake. Police would not say what was in the bag and said the contents did not provide much evidence, partly because the bomb squad blew it up.

"To be honest with you, they blew the hell out of it so it's hard to tell," Detective Pattullo said.

The man who came into the bank and left with the money is the only suspect at this time, according to Detective Pattullo.

He is described as a white male, approximately 5-foot, 7-inches tall and weighing about 170 pounds. He had brownish hair, a pock-marked face and was 38 to 42 years old. He was wearing a brown "car coat," which is mid-length, and was carrying the blue bag when he came in and a canvas bank bag when he left.

But police admit they have very little to go on, and the bank employees were not able to provide many details.

"They didn't even ask him his name, so we're not working with a hell of a lot," Detective Pattullo said. "We hope somebody will read about it or hear about it on the news and realize that this guy, a relative or a friend who is suddenly $10,000 richer, fits the description and will give us a call."

The bank was closed for the rest of the day after the robbery, due to the bomb threat. The seven or eight employees of the bank were taken to the police station where they provided whatever information they could to police.

Len Wilson, bank president, said Wednesday morning that all the employees followed the bank's procedures and he was satisfied with their actions.

"The people in the bank followed the bank policy, which is to protect customers and employees," Mr. Wilson said.

He said the threat of a bomb is an unusual occurrence, even though employees are trained in security because of the nature of the business.

"They handled it exactly as they should have," Mr. Wilson said.

"It was a different situation," said John Digaetano, vice president of community banking for First Essex. "They did all that they were supposed to do as far as our policy calls for."

five or 10 more pounds," she said.

About 18 months ago, Jennifer's friends began voicing their concerns about her weight loss, eating habits and the bouts of bulimia she talked about with them.

"I think some people do it for attention, but that isn't the case with me. I just wanted to feel good about myself," she said.

"I didn't want people to say I was so skinny. I wanted to be left alone."

At that point, Jennifer began to suspect that she had an eating problem. She was convinced that no one thought about food and counting calories as much as she did.

"I was very unhappy. It isn't fun when the only thing you think about is your weight and the food you eat. It isn't a pleasant way to live," she said.

She called a local therapist who works with teens and eating disorders because she wanted her suspicions confirmed.

"I wanted a professional to tell me I had an eating disorder. With my parents, it would have been an issue. They would have said, 'No, you are fine.' My mom can't understand eating disorders, alcoholism or other addictions. She thinks if you drink too much then you should stop drinking."

"My parents simply couldn't understand why people have eating disorders. (My therapist) believed me," she said.

Once Jennifer talked with the therapist, she told her parents and then continued her counseling sessions. She went to a nutritionist and learned how to set up a meal plan that was comfortable for her. Her parents sometimes attend therapy sessions with her and are now supportive, Jennifer said.

"It is hard for them. All they see is that I'm skinny and that I'm sick," she said.

"I've been in therapy almost two years and still I'm bulimic sometimes. I feel I'm in control of my eating and I know I can choose to eat or not, or be bulimic or not," she said.

Helping victims, families, friends

Jennifer said she isn't sure eating disorders can be prevented. She believes societal pressures to be thin are difficult to evade.

"When I look at my friends and how they begin dieting I can see which one will or won't get an eating disorder," she said.

Learning about proper nutrition and maintaining a healthy weight through a healthy diet and exercising are skills that help teens combat eating disorders, she said.

Addressing the underlying problems that lead to eating disorders is the best defense against them, she said.

Jennifer says there are two types of hunger - physical and emotional - and eating disorders can kick in to rectify both.

As for her own prognosis, Jennifer said she can see the end of the tunnel.

"Food may always be an issue for me. I may never be able to go out to a restaurant and choose whatever I want to and not worry about the calories, and then again maybe I will. But right now I feel I'm under control."

3 AHS stories: Well worth it

Photographers know that for some reason there are a few people who show up time and again in their cameras' viewfinders. This week, we notice that the story list for this week's Townsmen contained more stories than usual about one subject: Andover High School.

There is the story about eating disorders, which includes the lucid account of a 17-year-old AHS student who is bravely facing the fact that she has a problem and she is working very hard to overcome it.

We have the remains of last week's page-1 story of the fist fight at the high school: two letters about the subject, one saying young students should be encouraged to participate in conflict resolution, the other saying that this newspaper as well as AHS administrators labeled the students black and white when, the writer believes, the conflict was between two teen-agers, not between two teen-agers of different races.

And then we have the light-hearted story about the Mr. Andover High School contest, a story we were prepared to dislike because we thought it might be sexist, or emphasize inappropriate attitudes. But it did not. In fact, we rather enjoyed the contest story. It is full of fun and we believe it to be a clever way for the junior class to raise funds for its coffers.

We also like the mix of Andover high stories, even if the school is, perhaps, over-covered this week. We are glad students, letter-writers and many other community members are discussing the fist fight at the school. There is tension there, and be it racially-charged or just teen-charged, it wants discussing.

There is nothing funny about anorexia. We congratulate "Jennifer" for sharing the story of her battle with her eating disorder. Perhaps her honesty and emerging understanding of her problem will help others with similar disorders.

And then there is a chance to have some fun, in this case, a contest with 13 juniors being creative and showing their stuff.

The students are our future. They are important. Plus, their stories make good reading.

Dr. Martha Lindsay of the Andover Animal Hospital pets a stray cat that is a temporary resident of the hospital, which acts as a holding tank for animals picked up in town by the animal control officer. Dr. Lindsay and other veterinarians and personnel at the hospital are worried that new state regulations related to animals' rabies vaccinations will mean many animals, especially cats, will have to be euthanized to stop the spread of rabies.

If you love your cats and dogs . . .

By Perry Colmore

NOW HEAR THIS: It is imperative that you have your cats, and also your dogs, vaccinated against rabies. If you are not sure if your cat's rabies shot is up to date, go to the phone or to your records right now and deal with it. Don't put it off.

Martha Lindsay, a veterinarian at Andover Animal Hospital, has me very worried. You should be, too. The state has passed new regulations regarding animals and rabies, and if we don't pay attention and comply, our pets are going to have to be put down, and some people are going to die of full-blown rabies cases.

Here's the story:

As of next Wednesday, Feb. 24, every cat and dog has to have had a rabies vaccination.

"That sounds not too bad, right?" says Dr. Lindsay, who is caught between not wanting people to panic and wanting people to understand how serious this problem is.

She brings up an example of what could happen. The animal control officer brings a stray cat to the animal shelter. If that cat has an injury that the veterinarian perceives to be caused by a puncture wound - old or new - the doctor has to assume that that wound could mean the animal has rabies and therefore has to be euthanized. ("Put to sleep" is a phrase that I don't use. It isn't sleep; it's death.)

The new regulations, which are aimed at curtailing rabies, say that an animal boarding facility can't release an animal it has boarded until it has proof that the animal has been vaccinated against rabies.

So some kind person who has found a stray cat brings it in and the facility tells the person that the cat will have to have a rabies shot. Or a person comes in wanting to adopt a stray boarded there, and is told the animal will have to have a rabies shot before it is released. "The state doesn't want these animals running around being reservoirs for rabies," explains Dr. Lindsay.

But many people won't want to pay $25 for the rabies shot. "That means fewer strays will be taken care of because people won't want to pay the money," she says. "I understand the other side of it: We want to have these animals vaccinated."

Dr. Lindsay recommends people whose cats go outdoors should put break-away collars on their cats so a cat's tag tells his owner's name.

"We used to be afraid to use collars," she says, referring to worries of cats getting hung up in tree branches or dogs grabbing cats by the collar.

Get the picture? Animal hospitals and animal boarding facilities are going to be euthanizing many, many cats because either they won't know if the cat has been vaccinated or they won't know if the animal has been bitten by another animal and therefore exposed to rabies.

Typically, says Dr. Lindsay, people vaccinate their dogs against rabies, but not their cats. Cats often are allowed to wander outdoors, especially at night, and that is when raccoons are out because they are nocturnal. Right now, many raccoons are carrying rabies, says the doctor, and even though so far we haven't recorded a case in Andover, the rate at which rabies is spreading through the state means it soon will be here, too. "The assumption is that rabies is everywhere

Students should be talking

Editor, Townsmen:

Physical violence between students at Andover High School is cause for serious concern - any physical violence between people is always a matter of serious concern. The violence between individuals (albeit in violation of the rules) that we are exposed to daily as part of contests of skill between highly paid professional athletes, is a matter for serious concern - but that has been widely aired and not why I am writing now.

My immediate concern is not about this specific incident nor its immediate cause. Rather, something that reportedly occurred as part of the later examination of last week's episode, something unfortunate and not directly related, is, I think, an underlying contributor to such eruptions of violence and a more serious problem.

The words (emphasis mine) of one of the students involved in the actual event were kept from the public by his parents, who reportedly would not let their son speak to the Townsmen. I strongly suspect that had this young man been prevented from speaking by anyone but his parents they, his parents, would have been highly incensed and protested loudly about violation of his rights and the lack of proper respect by society for a fully competent citizen who only by chance happens to be a minor.

Parents do their children and the public a serious disservice when we prevent our children from participating in appropriate and legitimate (i.e. non-violent) means of resolving conflict/dispute. We cannot expect our children to mature and learn how to be responsible for their own acts unless we give them both the responsibility and the opportunity. Bottled up frustration/misunderstanding - we also all must be aware - all too often erupts into spontaneous violence.

Please let us let our children speak.

Don't label them black or white

Editor, Townsmen:

The words I have written here cannot begin to express my anger at the way the disturbance at the high school during the assembly was handled by the local newspapers and our school administrators. How dare we as responsible adults call ourselves "unprejudiced" when we continue to label our students and town youths by the color of their skin? [See "AHS copes with fistfight," page 1, Feb. 11.]

I, by chance, was at the assembly and saw the disturbance first hand. I heard the comments and saw the physical scuffle and quite honestly, was unnerved that high school students would choose to vent their frustrations physically. I am, however, more unnerved by the labeling of this student scuffle as black vs. white. What I saw was student vs. student, human vs. human.

How can our youth hope to see past racial "boundaries" if we as the leaders of their local media and town schools cannot do so?

If our students are having difficulties handling their conflicts without the use of physical measures, then we need to address this topic and teach responsible ways of handling their frustrations. It seems to me that this is the reason why this scuffle occurred in the first place. It would make sense then to have assemblies and speaker in to discuss and advise students as to alternatives that are available to them so that they do not see violent behavior as their only choice to settling disputes.

Instead of addressing the situation from this perspective, it seems our schools are heading in the wrong direction. It has come to my attention that those seen as minority students are being discreetly questioned as to whether they have personally encountered any racial difficulties. I consider the questioning of minority students to be a racial disturbance of itself. Perhaps it did not occur to our school officials that these "minority" students, up until the time of their discreet questioning, only considered themselves members of the Andover High student body. Now they have been made to view themselves as a "minority attachment" to the whole.

We should be striving at our high school to join all our students into a greater community of one student body, varied as it is with all of ethnic and racial differences, yet united because we all belong to it. This can only be accomplished by accentuating our common goals and acknowledging our common basic bond, our humanness.

When we as unprejudiced adults can see a student scuffle as just that and truly not be blinded by the color of the faces involved, then we will be able to help our youths, our future, to do the same.

Don't put off your pet's rabies shot; it could save his life

because it has made such huge jumps (from one community to another) so fast."

The law now says that every raccoon that is caught today must be euthanized and tested for rabies until every community in the state records its own rabies case.

Here is another problem. There is a period when an animal can carry rabies and transmit a case, but shows no signs of being rabid, says Dr. Lindsay.

So someone picks up your cat, which has wandered from home. It has no visible wounds. It doesn't wear a collar. The facility, Andover Animal Hospital for the community of Andover, that boards stray animals has to assume that the cat could have rabies.

"It looks fine; it has no puncture wounds," says Dr. Lindsay. "That animal, which could be adopted, could still come down with rabies."

It can take up to six months for an animal to show signs of rabies, she says. The Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has decided it still will allow a stray to be adopted after the MSPCA gives it a rabies shot. But if the animal is carrying rabies, the shot won't do any good.

So the moral dilemma, Dr. Lindsay points out, is whether the Andover Animal Hospital will say to the family that is considering adopting that stray cat - the one that has no puncture wounds - that the same cat could be carrying rabies since it is a stray and wearing no collar to identify owner or proof of rabies, and it has no visible puncture wounds.

What Dr. Lindsay knows is that when she says to people, "It's possible this cat could be carrying rabies, even though it has no puncture wounds," people will not adopt the pet.

"We would (she can't even say 'will') be putting down animals right and left and backward and forward," she says. "So you see our dilemma."

Here's another part of the problem: For up to three days before any signs of rabies occur in an animal, that animal can pass rabies from his saliva to a person. So if someone has, say, an open cut on his hand, or he bites his fingernails and has an open hangnail, the cat with rabies and no visible signs of the disease could lick the person and pass on the rabies.

"It's really bad," offers Dr. Lindsay. "My employees can't stomach the fact that they are going to have to put all these animals down."

There is another option about strays that don't have puncture signs, but could be carrying rabies. The animal facility could inform the adopting person that the animal could have rabies and the person could agree to confine the animal for six months. But that puts the family at risk, and Dr. Lindsay admits she probably wouldn't subject her family to the possibility of rabies by waiting the six months.

By spring, when the raccoons, which have been hibernating, come out and are mating, the problem "is really going to blow," predicts Dr. Lindsay.

The animals that are most likely to get rabies today are raccoons, cows and cats, says Dr. Lindsay. Cows get it because they are curious and may check out a raccoon, which then may bite the cow on the leg, according to the doctor.

Plus, "Nobody thinks to vaccinate" animals such as cows and goats, says the doctor. Recently, the Andover Animal Hospital vaccinated some goats against rabies, at a clinic.

Raccoons tend to be around people because raccoons are natural scavengers so they are attracted to houses where garbage cans are located.

Any mammal can carry rabies, Dr. Lindsay says, and bats are mammals. "Any mammal is at risk" to catch rabies, she explains. So there are many ways to spread rabies.

When I was a child I knew a girl who had to have rabies shots because a dog bit her. They were an excruciating series of shots to the stomach. Dr. Lindsay says rabies shots are a series of six today, and are "survivable," bad, but not that bad.

She says children today are very worried about rabid dogs and cats, wanting to know what to do if they encounter them. ("Stand like a tree and be as still as a stone" when encountering a rabid dog because a child can't out run a dog, says the doctor. Standing like a tree means be absolutely still. Most people can outrun a rabid cat or raccoon, she says.)

She has talked with public school children here about the problem and probably will talk with them some more in the future. She says there are two types of behavior that an animal with rabies can exhibit: the dumb form, when an animal seems stunned, dull or listless, and the furious form, when an animal goes wild, the way Old Yeller did in the Disney film. But an animal can seem perfectly normal and still be carrying rabies, warns Dr. Lindsay.

"This is not a fun situation," she says. "This is very, very difficult."

And to prove that, she reminds us that there is no cure for rabies in a person once he or she comes down with an actual case. "They die," she says.

"If you know you have been exposed, then you get the shots and you are fine, but you have to know," she says. "This is a disease that can only be handled in prevention."

POLICE LOG

ARRESTS

Tuesday, Feb. 9 - At 9:28 p.m., Edward F. Lucas, 38, of Lawrence, was arrested on River Road and charged on a Gardner traffic warrant.

Wednesday, Feb. 10 - At 10:59 p.m., Michael R. Dion, 31, of Lawrence, was arrested on River Road and charged with operating after suspension, with revoked plates and uninsured.

Thursday, Feb. 11 - At 12:49 p.m., Sigrid A. Yorke, 28, of Lowell, was arrested on North Main Street and charged on a Haverhill warrant for unpaid fines, operating after suspension of his license and a traffic violation.

Friday, Feb. 12 - At 11:30 p.m., Richard D. Petron Jr., 30, of Derry, N.H., was arrested on North Main Street and charged with operating under the influence (liquor) and speeding.

Saturday, Feb. 13 - At 4:32 p.m., John R. Driscoll, 34, of 5 Franklin Ave., was arrested at his home and charged with assault and battery on a family member and assault with a dangerous weapon (a hand gun). The victim reported Mr. Driscoll had come home drunk, was tearing up the house and went to hide a gun in the cellar when police were called, according to the police report. An emergency 209A restraining order was given to Mr. Driscoll.

Saturday, Feb. 13 - At 7:34 p.m., Franklin R. Cabrera, 29, of Lawrence, was arrested on North Main Street and charged with operating after revocation of his license and without insurance, and on two Lawrence warrants for violation of a 209A restraining order and aggravated assault.

Sunday, Feb. 14 - At 9:26 p.m., Cynthia Colon, 18, of Lawrence, was arrested on River Road and charged with operating after suspension of her license and with tinted windows.

At 11:41 p.m., Roger Pelletier Jr., 21, of Lawrence was arrested on River Road and charged with operating with attached plates, after suspension of his license, uninsured and after revocation of his plates.

Monday, Feb. 15 - At 8:03 p.m., a car chase that began on North Main Street in front of Shawshen Sunoco ended in a fiery crash in Lawrence and two warrants being issued by police.

Officer Laurence Hickman chased the car up North Main onto Railroad Avenue, up Brook Street to Central Street and down Essex Street, back out Railroad and down North Main into Lawrence before the suspect car crashed into parked cars at the corner of South Union Street and Andover Street and burst into flames. The operator fled, but a passenger was caught and taken to Lawrence General Hospital suffering burns to his lungs.

Peter C. Allen, 43, of North Reading, the passenger, will be charged with possession of a stolen car. Police also expect to have a warrant for the suspected operator, whose name is being withheld, for the stolen car charge and other charges.

At 11:46 p.m., Martha J. Unggebauer, 25, of 5 Washington Ave., was arrested on North Main Street and charged with operating after suspension of her license and operating unregistered.

INCIDENTS

Tuesday, Feb. 9 - At 3:32 p.m., a 209A restraining order was served on Elm Street.

Friday, Feb. 12 - At 2:26 p.m., a small amount of marijuana was found on a corridor floor at Greater Lawrence Technical School.

At 5:36 p.m., a Chester Street resident reported having a young raccoon in her cellar. Police opened a window for the animal to leave on its own.

ACCIDENTS

Wednesday, Feb. 10 - At 6:09 p.m., a minor accident was reported on Andover Street.

At 7:07 p.m., a minor accident was reported on Shawshen Road.

Thursday, Feb. 11 - At 6:41 p.m., a hit-and-run pedestrian accident was reported on Brechin Terrace after a resident reported the driver of a black Nissan Pathfinder tried to hit him and struck his foot. The victim was not injured.

Friday, Feb. 12 - At 1:40 p.m., a two-car accident was reported on High Plain Road at Greenwood Road.

At 1:41 p.m., an accident was reported on River Street.

At 2:23 p.m., a minor accident was reported at Shawshen Square.

At 3:03 p.m., a town truck was struck from behind while stopped on North Main Street.

At 4:15 p.m., a one-car accident was reported on High Plain Road.

At 5:23 p.m., an accident was reported on Haverhill Street.

At 9:50 p.m., a hit-and-run accident was reported in the Dunkin Donuts parking lot on North Main Street.

At 10:29 p.m., an accident was reported on Interstate 93 at Dascumb Road.

At 11:45 p.m., a car struck a utility pole on Lowell Street.

Saturday, Feb. 13 - At 9:21 a.m., an accident with injuries was reported on Lowell Street.

At 9:32 a.m., a one-car accident was reported on River Road.

At 10:01 a.m., a two-car accident was reported on Union Street.

At 10:51 a.m., a minor accident was reported on North Street.

BREAKS

Friday, Feb. 12 - At 10:32 a.m., a Pheasant Run woman reported she was lying in her bed when two to four men broke into her house. They opened her bedroom door, saw her and fled in a tan Jeep.

Monday, Feb. 15 - At 2:35 p.m., an attempted break was reported at McKeen Hall at Phillips Academy.

THEFTS

Thursday, Feb. 11 - At 1:43 p.m., Paula Pagonis, owner of the Sandpiper Shop at 3 Barnard St., reported her pocketbook stolen from the counter in the shop. A resident called her to report finding the pocketbook, but money was missing.

At 7:48 p.m., a theft was reported on Lowell Street.

Elden Salter, former town clerk of Andover for many years, clears away some of Tuesday's snow in front of his High Street home. Police report that between 12:45 and 5 p.m. Tuesday, 13 accidents were logged. They estimated that was only 50 percent of those that occurred. During that same period, police were dealing with a bank robbery (see page 1), and they chased a report of a crashed helicopter in Ballardvale, which turned out to be an erroneous report by a very young child. Many businesses let employees leave early and driving was difficult in the late afternoon. But by about 8 p.m., it was raining in town and the streets were full of water, not snow. Last week, Bob McQuade, Department of Public Works director, said the town's snow budget had been depleted by two-thirds, and he estimated there was enough money left for two snow storms. Now, Andover has had the "two more" snow storms: last Friday and Tuesday.

4 plead guilty in hashish case

Four men, including two from Andover, involved in an international conspiracy to import hashish into the U.S. pleaded guilty and were sentenced in Boston on Feb. 5.

U.S. Attorney A. John Pappalardo announced the pleas and sentencing of Peter Kattar, Stephen Kattar, David Abdoo and Sayed Hachem.

The defendants were arrested in August 1991 following a multi-agency investigation that resulted in the seizure of 6,393 pounds of hashish (2,906 kilograms). The hashish, which was grown in the Bekaa Valley of Lebanon, imported into the United States and destined for Canada, has an estimated street value of more than $85 million.

Peter Kattar, 63, of 35 McKenney Circle, pleaded guilty to conspiracy to import hashish, conspiracy to possess hashish with intent to distribute and the unlawful laundering of monetary instruments. He was sentenced to 10 years incarceration followed by three years of supervised release. He also forfeited $500,000 to the U.S. At his change of plea, the United States stated that its trial evidence would have shown that Mr. Kattar was the head of the organization responsible for the importation of the hashish.

Stephen Kattar, 33, of 33 McKenney Circle, pleaded guilty to conspiracy to import hashish and was sentenced to time served, followed by five years of probation. He is Peter Kattar's son.

David Abdoo, 41, of Colchester, Vt., pleaded guilty to conspiracy to import hashish and was sentenced to five years incarceration, followed by five years of supervised release. Mr. Abdoo also forfeited $500,000 to the United States.

Mr. Hachem, 36, of Lawrence, pleaded guilty to conspiracy to import hashish. On or after April 1, he will be deported to Lebanon, his country of citizenship.

The remaining defendants in the case, Gebran Hanna and Vincent Petrelli, are scheduled to be tried beginning Feb. 22. Both men are citizens of Canada.

The case was investigated by the United States Customs Service, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, the Internal Revenue Service and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Assistant U.S. attorneys Paul V. Kelly and Robert W. Iuliano of Pappalardo's Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force were the prosecutors.

AHS boys varsity basketball: Somebody up there likes them

By Rick Harrison

With some divine power appearing to guide them through dramatic one-point victories over Chelmsford and Lowell, the Andover High boys' basketball team has clinched at least a tie for its first Merrimack Valley Conference championship in 12 years.

In becoming the fourth AHS athletic team to clinch a league title this winter, the Golden Warriors looked like a team of destiny as they eked out a 57-56 overtime win against Chelmsford and a 54-53 regulation triumph over Lowell.

Both victories were recorded in the other team's building, and both came when the opposition missed potential winning free throws in the closing seconds.

Mike Roberts was the catalyst in both come-from-behind wins, as Andover trailed Chelmsford by five with 35 seconds left and Lowell by five with one minute to play.

"It was deja vu all over again.

The Warriors also registered an easy 73-47 victory over Billerica recently.

The three straight wins took some of the importance out of last night's league finale against Central Catholic, although a rare perfect MVC season and outright possession of the Large School Division title were still on the line.

Central Catholic, which also squeezed out a pair of 50-49 one-point decisions over Lowell and Chelmsford last week, needed a victory for a share of the title.

The Golden Warriors had a four-game win streak on the line last night, entering the game with a 14-0 league record and superb 12.2 overall mark.

"Our goal from day one was to win the league," said Coach Dave Fazio. "We had some luck against both Chelmsford and Lowell, but you need a little luck along the way to have a record like ours.

"We also have Mike Roberts and thank God for that. He's been unbelievable in the clutch."

Roberts paced the club in scoring through 19 games with 392 points (20.6 average), while Eric Danis had 228, Kirk Stockwood 184, Mark Lastrina 125 and Tom Tanin 112.

Andover, 57-56 (ot)

"Chelmsford was a game where you just sat back when it was over and said wow!" observed Coach Fazio.

The game was tied 22-22 at halftime and 51-51 at the end of regulation, but overtime never seemed an option with the Warriors down five and just 35 seconds to play.

Enter Mr. Roberts.

"He was four steps over half court, and about three steps behind the three-point line, when he knocked down a bomb to bring us back within two," said Coach Fazio.

Andover then fouled Chelmsford, the Lions missed, and the host team made the mistake of sending Roberts to the line with 19 seconds left.

"The kid has ice water in his veins," said Coach Fazio. "He hit them both and we were tied."

Chelmsford came down and tried an ill-advised three-pointer. The shot missed, but even more ill-advised was the foul committed by Andover.

The Lions player went to the line with three chances to win it, but all three free throws missed and the locals were still alive in overtime.

"We were very fortunate to get to overtime, but then we fell behind by three (54-51) again right away," said Coach Fazio. "But someone was looking over us. We got the right calls and right breaks at the right times."

Andover battled back and managed to escape with the one point victory.

"We didn't play well, but Chelmsford had a lot to do with that," said Coach Fazio. "We came out flat and they were hitting their shots."

Roberts finished the game with 31 points, including 5-of-8 from treyland, and he also passed out five assists in a Herculean performance.

Eric Danis added nine points and six rebounds, junior guard and Co-Captain Kirk Stockwood seven points, Matt Gibson four points and five boards, Tom Tanin four points and Mark Lastrina two free throws.

Andover, 54-53

The Golden Warriors raced to an early 14-point lead against host Lowell, and were still sitting pretty at 33-21 by halftime.

Kirk Stockwood tossed in 11 points in the opening 16 minutes, and sophomore forward Eric Danis "had an awesome first half" according to Coach Fazio.

"But in the second half Lowell packed the defense in tight to shut off Eric (Danis), and we couldn't get any rhythm on our outside shots. It was as if the shooters were trying to wish the ball through the hoop.

"We played the second half not to lose," continued Coach Fazio. "They became timid all of a sudden, knowing that the first league title in 12 years was on the line. It was such a big thing, all of a sudden, that it seemed like a massive weight on their shoulders.

"Almost every shot we took was short, and that's a sure sign of nervousness."

Enter Superman Roberts once again.

With Lowell ahead by five points with one minute to play, Roberts pumped through the next six points to secure the win.

However, with 0:01 on the clock Andover again committed a foul.

A Lowell player went to the line with a 1-and-1 situation, a tie or a victory in his hands.

"We called a timeout to try and ice him, he missed the first shot, and we won the game," said Coach Fazio. "It's unbelievable. Twice in a row. Somebody wanted us to win this thing, for sure."

The difference was the free throw line, where Andover went 17-for-26 and Lowell only 8-for-11.

Roberts actually finished with the final eight AHS points and had 19 for the game.

Stockwood contributed 14 points, Eric Danis 10 points and seven rebounds, Matt Gibson five free throws, Tom Tanin four points and seven boards, Captain Dave Gardner two points and Matt Lastrina two.

John Breen and Chris Holmes led Lowell with 14 and 11 points respectively.

Andover, 73-47

Billerica was no match for the Golden Warriors.

"We came out and just blew them away," said Coach Fazio. "Mike Roberts had 19 points in the first half and we played Andover basketball."

It was 38-19 at the break, and despite substituting freely in the second half AHS still outscored the Indians 35-29.

Roberts finished with 20 points and five assists, Eric Danis nine points, Matt Gibson eight points, Tom Tanin eight points and seven rebounds, Kirk Stockwood seven points and seven assists, John Martin six points, Mark Lastrina four points and eight boards, Dave Gardner four points, J.J. McCormick three points, John Donovan two and Frank Paone two.

The team had 16 assists and Roberts four more three-pointers.

Young gymnast competes at state level

Kristin Elmore, a third-grade student at Bancroft School, recently attended her first Massachusetts state championships. Kristin competes as a level 7 compulsory gymnast in the U.S. Gymnastics Federation program. The USGF is the governing board for the sport throughout the United States for levels ranging 1-10 to elite. Kristin qualified from local to sectional competition to move on to the state meet. She has also qualified to move to level 8, which will be her first season with optional routines.

At a recent local qualifying meet Kristin received a 9.00 on the uneven parallel bars and her highest all-around score of 33.95, winning first place.

She moved to Andover last summer from Los Gatos, Calif., where she had been training in gymnastics for the past four years. Kristin is a team member of Northeast Gymnastics Center in Wilmington.

Sick swimmers settle for second last Saturday

Despite the flu sweeping through their ranks, the Andover High School men's varsity swim team held on to second place in the Merrimack Valley swimming and diving championships last Saturday at Haverhill.

Senior co-captain Matt Liberty won the 100-yard butterfly with a :55.30 and the 200-yard freestyle where he set a new school and MVC championship record with a 1:46.93.

Sophomores Chris Blongiewicz and Adam Schoen, top seeds in their individual events, swam with 101+ temperatures. Blongiewicz managed second-place finishes in the 200 individual medley (2:13.71) and 100-yard backstroke (1:01.13) while Schoen was runner-up in the 50 (23.88) and 100-yard (52.91) freestyles. The pair teamed with Liberty and junior Tim Connors for a medley relay that saw Chelmsford nip Andover at the wall in the closest race of the meet.

The "A" team time of 1:47.67 was a seasonal best for the quartet while the "B" team of Peter Bolway, Nathan Winters, Chris Sheldon and Dave Mazin swam their fastest time of the year, 2:08.12, for seventh place.

Connors swam to two personal best times in the 100-yard breaststroke in a 1:07.97 and in the 200 I.M. with a 2:17.97. Sheldon was 12th in the I.M. with a personal best of 2:35.55, more than a five-second improvement.

Senior co-captain Adam Robb blew out his goggles and his back in the 200 free but managed to hold on to a fourth-place finish in 2:00.48. Dave Mazin swam a personal best, 2:22.58, in the event, bettering his time by eight seconds. Freshman Bolway lowered his best time in the 50 free by nearly a full second when he went :26.28 for 11th place in the event. Also swimming personal best times in the 50 were Joel Elzweig, :32.90, Mark Elzweig, :32.20, Din Kagalwala, :31.74, Greg Litchfield, :29.29, and Jamie Roof, :30.45.

Divers Matt Thresher and Litchfield placed eighth and ninth, respectively, in the one-meter board competition.

Senior Ben Maxin placed sixth in the 100 fly in a 1:04.70 while freshman John Mell improved his time by two full seconds.

Scoring personal best times in the 100 free were Bolway, 1:00.66, Mark Elzweig, 1:17.55, Kagalwala, 1:11.06, Ethan Krasnoo, 1:13.42, Roof, 1:09.92, and Winters, 1:02.82.

Because of his back, Robb could only muster a 5:27.26 in the 500 free for a fourth place. Moskal swam a personal best of 5:28.84 for fifth and Dave Mazin did a best time by eight seconds when he went 6:22.31. Moskal, Connors, Ben Mazin and Robb swam a 1:45.95 for fifth in the 200 free relay with Litchfield, Dave Mazin, Winters and Roof were 10th in 2:00.67.

Sheldon added another personal best in the 100 back swimming a 1:10.06 for ninth place. Ben Mazin was 10th in a 1:10.92.

Moskal was sixth in the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:12.16 while Winters went a personal best 1:15.92 for 12th.

Liberty and Blongiewicz, Robb and Schoen finished second in the 400 free relay with a 3:37.47 while the "B" team of Bolway, Sheldon, Ben Mazin and Moskal earned a sixth in 4:04.92.

AHS hockey team clinches Division 2 tournament berth

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High hockey team settled a pair of major issues in recent play.

Most significant was the clinching of another Eastern Mass. Division 2 Tournament berth, which was accomplished with victories over Dracut (3-2) and Lowell (5-0).

The second issue is one the Golden Warriors wish was still open for change, but regardless what happens in the final two league games Coach Bill Cullen's club will have to settle for third place in the Small School Division of the Merrimack Valley League.

AHS entered last night's game with Tewksbury at 7-3-2 in league play and 11-33 overall.

The locals were in title contention most of the season, but consecutive 2-2 ties with Tewksbury and Methuen along with the recent 4-2 upset loss to Central Catholic knocked Andover out of the picture.

"We're thrilled to be in the tournament, especially with such a young team (two seniors)," noted Coach Cullen. "It's a tribute to the kids' hard work that they have done so well."

Lynn English is on the docket for Saturday evening at 5 p.m. at the Lynn Metropolitan District Commission (MDC) Rink, and the regular season will conclude with a makeup game against Chelmsford next Monday night at Merrimack College (6:30 p.m.).

Andover All-Stars

Five AHS players will be on the Merrimack College ice tonight skating for the MVHL Small School Division All-Stars, as they engage the Cape Ann League Small Schoolers in the annual Inter-Conference All-Star Game.

Selected to represent Andover were forwards Bob Daley, Scott Sullivan and Chris Cullen, along with defensemen Justin Hesenius and Paul Allard.

Bill Cullen is co-coach of the team. Game time is 6:45 p.m. at the Volpe Complex.

Andover, 3-2

The Golden Warriors, who entered this game in the throes of a four-game winless streak (0-2-2), had not experienced an easy victory in almost a month.

This game was no exception, marking the ninth time a Warriors contest had been decided by two goals or less.

Dracut (8-9-0), beaten 7-0 by Andover earlier this season, broke on top 2-0 on first period goals by Mike Dubey and Shawn Nangle.

"We were caught in a tough situation because we hadn't skated hard in 4-5 days before this game, and it showed in the first period," explained Coach Cullen.

"We were supposed to play Chelmsford last Thursday, but the Zamboni (ice-making machine) at Merrimack College broke down. We only had a light workout on Wednesday in anticipation of the game, and then on Friday we were snowed out.

"We came into the Dracut game a little flat and it took us a period to snap out of it," added Coach Cullen.

AHS settled down, got its game legs back, and pulled even 2-2 on second-period goals by Scott Sullivan and Co-Captain Justin Hesenius.

Sophomore forward Sullivan pocketed his ninth of the season at 6:52, assists to linemates Bob Daley and Chris Cullen, and senior defenseman Hesenius tied it with his seventh goal and 15th point five minutes later.

That set the stage for Cullen's game-winner with less than four minutes to play, the ninth grader scoring his school freshman record 19th of the season with the setup to Sullivan.

Every time Cullen chalks up a point he adds to his records for goals, assists and total points by a freshman.

It also marked the fourth time this season that Clutch Cullen has scored late in a game to either tie or win it for his father's team.

Cullen was in the slot, with Sullivan out front, when he held the puck briefly before firing it into the lower right corner of the Dracut cage with 3:32 left.

Afarian made 13 saves, while the Mid-dies' Ryan St. Hilaire was busy with 37 stops as Andover held a wide 40-15 shooting edge.

Andover, 5-0

The Golden Warriors posted their fourth shutout of the season, and handed Lowell (4-14-0) its 14th straight MVHL defeat earlier this week at Merrimack College.

Goalies Peter Afarian (41 minutes) and Phil Smith (four minutes) combined for the 22-save whitewash.

"The kids played tight," said Coach Cullen. "They were nervous because they realized the importance of the game. We needed this one to qualify for the tournament, and even though we won we didn't play well."

Senior defenseman and Co-Captain Justin Hesenius assumed the leadership role, the superb three-sport athlete netting his eighth and ninth goals of the season.

Hesenius' unassisted tally at 1:18 of the first period gave the Warriors a 1-0 lead.

Andover broke it open with three goals in the middle stanza, Scott Sullivan notching his 10th from Bob Daley at 2:12, Scott Munroe making it 3-0 at 4:59 with the setup to junior defenseman Paul Allard, and Justin Hesenius pocketing his second unassisted goal of the game with 20 seconds left in the period.

High-scoring freshman Chris Cullen added to his record season by depositing his 20th goal at 6:22 of the final period, Daley collecting his second assist on the final marker.

Struggle continues for AHS girls varsity basketball team

By Rick Harrison

Life without Kerry Hagerty is getting more and more difficult.

The Andover High girls' basketball team certainly felt the loss of its top performer more than ever this past week, the Lady Warriors dropping two of three games.

The lone victory was an expected one over struggling Billerica, 42-32, while the losses came against improved Chelmsford, 49-36, and a strong Lowell High team, 52-47, which nailed down second place in the Merrimack Valley Conference Large School Division.

Andover finished third in the division, 8-5, and entered last night's regular season finale against undefeated Cape Ann League juggernaut Masconomet Regional at 13-6 overall including three losses in the previous four games.

Kerry Hagerty, still in some pain and confined to her home earlier this week, is clinging to the hope that despite her recent bout with mononucleosis she might get the OK to play in the Eastern Mass. Division 1 Tournament scheduled to start this weekend.

"We definitely miss our 'Kerry Hagerty glue.' When things got bad in a game Kerry would pump herself up, crash the boards and hustle twice as hard," said Coach George Sullivan. "Right now we don't have anyone that can duplicate what Kerry gave us."

"Lindsey Sweeney is doing an excellent job, but she's been plagued with injuries (back, ankle) and the supporting cast hasn't always been there."

Coach Sullivan brought a Teddy bear gift to his star player on Valentine's Day, and is hoping to pencil the Hagerty name into the Andover scorebook again before the season ends.

Lindsey Sweeney led the team in scoring after 19 games with 243 points (12.8 average), while Kerry Hagerty had 204 and Marcia Gemmell 134. Andover, 42-32

It was the annual "Senior Night" with Andover's seven seniors and the Billerica girls all receiving flowers before the game.

"I expected a letdown because we were coming off a strong effort against Haverhill," said Coach Sullivan. "We were flat at the beginning and towards the end against Billerica."

"We played just well enough to win. We still aren't looking to bury teams when the opportunity is there."

The effort was complicated further by an injury to Lindsey Sweeney, who has elevated her game and averaged close to 20 points per contest since Kerry Hagerty's illness.

"Two minutes into the game Lindsey went down with an ankle, and I kept her out for the remainder of the first half," noted Coach Sullivan.

AHS led 22-12 at intermission and maintained the same edge over the final 16 minutes, when the rivals divided 40 points squarely down the middle.

After some pleading during the break Co-Captain Sweeney returned to the floor for the second half, finishing as the team's second high scorer with eight points.

Junior guard Rachel Buonopane, also slowed by a tender ankle, was the lone local in double figures with a game-high 10 points.

Senior forward Marcia Gemmell scored seven points, sophomore forward Leah Mason five, senior forward Amy Cassidy four, freshman guard Vanessa Blank and senior center Beth Everett three points each, senior guard Tara Griffin (ankle injury) two.

Chelmsford, 49-36

This game was postponed 24 hours by snow, which seemed like a blessing because it gave the Lady Warriors walking wounded an extra day of rest.

But it also meant substitute officials would be used, and the pair who drew this game definitely left their mark.

Andover did not play particularly well, according to Coach Sullivan, but still managed to finish with a slim 17-16 edge in field goals.

The free throw line was the difference. Chelmsford took 27 more foul shots than Andover, finishing 16-for-29 at the stripe while the Lady Warriors were just 1-for-2.

AHS was whistled for 25 personal fouls, while Chelmsford was hit with just 10. The locals never entered the 1-and-1 situation in either half.

"I've never seen anything like it," said Coach Sullivan, who is usually reluctant to criticize officials. "Twenty-nine foul shots to two. I'd have to say the officiating was inconsistent, not just on the foul calls but all around."

"However, we did come out flat again. Chelmsford is a good team, and we let them break on top 12-2."

The Lady Warriors fought back to 18-18 late in the half, but allowed the Lions to escape on a 7-1 run in the closing minutes for a 25-19 lead at the break.

"Chelmsford is much bigger than we are, and they did a pretty good defensive job on Lindsey (Sweeney)," noted Coach Sullivan. "We did a lot of standing around on offense. We passed the ball and didn't move. We didn't rebound well, either, and everyone appeared exhausted."

"The girls also reached a point of total frustration. We were getting hammered and no calls were made."

Andover clawed back within four points late in the game, but once again Chelmsford regrouped and pulled away for the final 13-point victory.

"We were turning it on in spurts the whole game, but the problem was we turned it off just as many times."

Sweeney led the AHS attack with 13 points, Amy Cassidy and Rachel Buonopane added six each, Marcia Gemmell five, and single baskets were netted by Amanda Verreault, Tara Griffin and Leah Mason.

Andover had edged Chelmsford (10-7 record) by a single point, 36-35, in their first encounter on Jan. 12.

Lowell, 52-47

The problem against Lowell was too much Leah Green, as the Red Raiders' career scoring leader (980 points) poured through 28 and was virtually unstoppable.

"I put everyone except my mother on Leah Green, but we just couldn't contain her," said Coach Sullivan. "She's a great athlete. I know her family well and it's been a pleasure to watch her improve each year. But it's no fun coaching against her."

"We tried box-and-1, zone and straight man-to-man. Nothing worked. We didn't box out well underneath, and their girls snuck inside for a lot of second shot baskets."

"Lowell didn't really have any set offense. They just got the ball to Green and she went to the basket."

Miss Green, who netted 33 two games earlier and has 82 points in her last three starts as she makes a late rush for 1,000 points, finished with nine field goals and 10 free throws.

Andover led 24-22 at the half, fell behind by as many as 14 in the second half, and then climbed back within four prior to fading.

"Our kids played hard," said Coach Sullivan. "We had the fast break moving in the first half, but we used up most of our energy making the comeback in the second half. We couldn't get over the wall after battling back within four points."

"The way we fought back into contention was encouraging."

Lindsey Sweeney led three Andover players into double figures with 17 points, while Marcia Gemmell scored 14 and Beth Everett 11. Everett also had 12 rebounds and Gemmell nine.

Amy Cassidy and Rachel Buonopane contributed two points each, and Kim Daher converted a free throw.

Kerry Hagerty had 23 points and 16 rebounds in the first game between the two teams, won by Andover 58-47 on Jan. 19.

Boys indoor track team is 1993 MVC champ ...

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High boys indoor track team completed an undefeated dual meet season by running past Billerica 53-33 in the regular season finale at Lowell's Riddick Memorial Field House, thereby joining the AHS boys ski and girls gymnastics teams as 1993 Merrimack Valley Conference champions.

It is the best showing and first MVC win-track title for Andover since 1984, when the Golden Warriors arguably were the strongest team in the state as they went unbeaten and swept to league and State Class B championships.

Chelmsford (Class A) and Methuen (Class C) were also state champs that year, but Andover beat them both during the dual meet campaign.

The Andover girls track team highlighted its week with a strong second place showing in the Northern Area Meet at Lowell, and also closed out the dual meet season with a 47-39 loss to Billerica.

Individually, junior hurdler Stacey Lavoie had an outstanding week as the reigning State Class B 50-yard high hurdles champ first tied and later broke the school record in her specialty.

This Saturday Coach Art Iworsley's teams will return to the oval, both seeking State Class B championships at Harvard University (9:30 a.m. start).

Andover athletes who qualify Saturday will advance to the All-State Meet the following weekend at Harvard.

Andover boys, 53-33

Senior Captain Steve Shepard captured another double in the 300 dash and high jump, and the Golden Warriors placed first in seven of the 10 events including a sweep of the shot put and 1-2 finishes in the hurdles, 300 and two-mile.

"Billerica, although 4-4-0 overall, was the type of nuisance team that could have given the Warriors trouble.

Instead the locals improved to a perfect 8-0-0 league and 10-0-0 overall, including non-league victories over Phillips Academy and Alvirne High of Hudson, N.H.

The season wasn't without its anxious moments as close victories were registered against Chelmsford (45-41), second place Lowell (46-40) and Phillips (57-56).

The Golden Warriors beat Billerica handily despite the absence of Captain Colin Arsenault, the undefeated 600 yard run man sidelined by the flu virus.

"When Colin called me the night before the meet and said he was sick I started to get worried," said Coach Iworsley. "I thought it was a bad omen.

"But I felt a lot better after the meet started and we piled up a lot of early points by going 1-2 in the hurdles, two-mile and 300. We had it won long before the mile relay."

Shepard was money in the bank once again, clearing 6'0" in the high jump and clocking 35.1 in the 300 to edge teammate Josh Nelken (35.4).

Another shot put sweep was accomplished with senior Captain J.P. Ciruso (45'9"). Sean O'Leary (43'4") and Bryan Adams (39'9").

The 1-2 showing in the hurdles came from seniors Eric Fox and Jon Cirella, both of whom tied their personal-best time of 6.9, while the 1-2 in the deuce featured sophomore winner Mark Adams (10:52.2) and freshman runner-up Charlie Russo (10:55.0).

Other AHS victors were senior Captain Brian Twomey in the mile (4:46.1) and sophomore Matt Ely in the 1000 run (2:32.3).

Rocket Rod Lumley was second in the 50 dash, equalling his personal-best 5.7 clocking, while third place finishers were Greg Foltz in the 600 run (1:28.0) and sophomore Mike Marcinous in the high jump (5'4").

Andover girls

The Lady Warriors, who ended up 4-4-0 in the MVC and 6-5-0 overall, dropped their third straight close decision.

The Andover girls were not far from an undefeated league season themselves, with all four losses by narrow margins to Masconomet Regional (46-40), Chelmsford (44-42), Lowell (45-41) and Billerica (47-39).

"The girls lost to Billerica by three inches and the flu virus," said Coach Iworsley.

The explanation?

"We missed second place in the shot put by a half-inch, and second place in the 300 by two inches," said Coach Iworsley. "If we threw one inch longer in the shot and were two inches quicker in the 300 it would have been a four-point swing.

"Our best two-miler, Ellen Sullivan, was out with the flu. The Billerica girl's winning time in was 13:21, and Ellen's slowest time this season is 12:55.0. She definitely would have won the race and that's another five points."

With three more inches and a healthy Ellen Sullivan the Lady Warriors would have won the meet, 48-38.

Stacey Lavoie and junior Sarah Witman both won individual events and ran on the victorious mile relay team.

Lavoie equaled the 10-year-old school record in the 50 hurdles, her 7.2 matching the time posted by Lisa DeLuca in 1983.

Sarah Witman had her strongest finish in the 600, crossing in 1:35.6 while senior teammate and Captain Jen Batts was a close second in 1:36.6.

The mile relay team of junior Valerie Gould, Batts, Witman and Lavoie placed first in 4:42.0.

The fourth AHS winner was sophomore sprinter Jamie Barron in the 50 dash (6.4).

Joining Miss Batts with second place performances were senior Tricia McNeice in the 1000 run (3:06.0), senior Captain Amanda Holmes in the mile (5:54.7) and junior Madhavi Reddy in the two-mile (13:24.0).

Finishing third were sophomore Rebecca Goldenberg in both the hurdles (8.1) and high jump (4'4"), Randi Spiegel in the 50 dash (6.6), sophomore Amy Levesque who was nosed out in the photo finish 300 race (41.5), junior Leigh Clarke in the mile (6:09.0), Melanie McGarry in the deuce (14:24.0) and senior Captain Alex Wendt who was edged in the shot (25'1").

Northern Area Meet

Last year Andover dominated this meet as the girls were champs in their division, the boys were second and the Warriors also captured the combined boys-girls team title.

Last weekend the undermanned locals managed a second place finish by the girls (42 points), an eighth place by the boys (18 points) and a sixth place in the combined scoring (60 points).

Masconomet Regional won the girls title and Lowell was the combined champion.

"We had 12 kids out sick or on vacation, so we almost didn't go to the meet," said Coach Iworsley. "In some cases it might have been better just to rest up for the Class Meet, but there were also some very positive notes such as Stacey Lavoie's school record in the hurdles."

Miss Lavoie smashed the AHS mark and tied the Northern Area Meet record with a 7.0 clocking.

"A couple people had her as low as 6.94 but the official time was seven seconds flat," said Coach Iworsley.

She was one of three Andover champions, as the Lady Warriors compiled 42 points but still finished a distant second to MVC leaguemate Masconomet (61 points).

Sarah Witman placed first in the 600 in 1:35.9, and the mile relay team of Rebecca Goldenberg, sophomore Julie Rozopoulos, Lavoie and Witman won their race in 4:25.6. Fourth places went to Jamie Barron in the 50 dash (6.4) and Amy Levesque in the 300 dash (41.4).

Tricia McNeice was fifth in the 1000 run (3:04.3), and sixths were earned by Leigh Clarke in the 440 dash (67.5) and Amanda Holmes in the mile (5:53.7).

This being school winter vacation week, several girls were away with their families while sprinter Kim Young (ankle) is out injured and distance runners Ellen Sullivan (flu) and Kelly Cronin (flu) were ill.

Boys undermanned

The Andover boys managed just 18 points en route to their eighth place finish.

However, unable to compete for various reasons were consistent pointscorers Steve Shepard, Colin Arsenault, Josh Nelken, Max Dawson, Rob Weisman and Dan Taylor.

Shepard finished third in a trial heat of the 300 dash, cleared opening height of 5'10" in the high jump, but then was withheld from further competition.

"Steve's head was pounding and he was sick as a dog," said Coach Iworsley. "He wanted to keep going but it wasn't worth it. The State Class Meet is too important to risk losing him."

Arsenault, seeded No. 1 in the 600 run, was still out sick along with Dawson and Taylor.

Weisman is injured and Josh Nelken was trapped at Loon Mountain by last week's snowstorm.

J.P. Ciruso produced the top Andover finish with a third in the shot put (44'11").

Brian Twomey was fourth in the mile (4:45.3), Rod Lumley fifth in the 50 dash (5.7), Sean O'Leary fifth in the shot put (44'2"), Jon Cirella fifth in the hurdles (6.8), Eric Fox sixth in the hurdles (6.8) and Matt Ely sixth in the 1000 yard run (2:33.7).

... While the girls gym team wins its second straight title

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High girls gymnastics team just kept getting better and better as the season progressed.

A 6-2-0 dual meet season was followed by a second straight title in the Merrimack Valley Conference Championship Meet.

The Lady Warriors were informed last week that they had earned one of the five wild card berths in the 10-team North Sectionals, and they emerged as the surprise team of the competition by placing fifth in the meet at Stoneham High.

Coach Julie Curtis's squad was seeded ninth, jumped up four places to finish fifth, and barely missed qualifying for this week's All-State Meet.

Last year Kasie Kearins, Tania Pierce & Co., which included the majority of this year's team, went undefeated in duals, swept all MVC honors and finished third in both the North Sectionals and State Meet.

"The girls did unbelievably well," said Coach Curtis. "We placed ahead of (MVC dual meet champ) Methuen at the Sectionals (the Rangers were seventh), and showed everyone Andover was the best team in our league at the end of the season.

"It was a happy ending. The girls worked hard for it."

Waiting game

The Lady Warriors had to wait until Thursday, less than 48 hours before the Sectionals, before learning officially they had qualified.

"We didn't get a chance to practice Friday because of the snowstorm, and that just made everyone more nervous going into the meet," noted Coach Curtis. "But we went in and did very well. The girls were psyched."

In fact, as the meet went along the Lady Warriors began to do some scoreboard watching.

"Peabody (top seed) wasn't doing well at all, and Shrewsbury was having an off day, so we began climbing up in the standings and for awhile it looked like we had an outside shot at qualifying for States," said Coach Curtis. "We needed some luck, though."

When the final scores were tabulated the top three were Middlesex League champ Stoneham, Dual County League titlist Westford Academy and former two-time state champ Beverly High.

Acton-Boxboro was fourth, fractions of a point from State Meet qualification, and Andover fifth with 130.25 points.

Rounding out the 10-team field were Algonquin Regional (6th), which hosted the State Meet, Methuen (7th), Melrose (8th), Peabody (9th) and Shrewsbury (10th).

Shui qualifies for States

Sure-shot sophomore standout Irene Shui was the lone Andover gymnast to qualify for the State Individual Meet, placing sixth on the balance beam in the North Sectionals with an 8.85 score.

The top six finishers in each event earned State berths.

Under the North Sectional format six girls from each team were allowed to compete in each of the four events, with the top four scores counting towards the team total.

Andover did well on the uneven bars and balance beam, fair in vaulting and not so well in floor exercise.

"We bombed on floor for the first time this year," said Coach Curtis. "But it didn't really affect our team standing."

Balance Beam: Irene Shui's 8.85 led the way for Andover on beam, while sophomore Marcie Lutsch scored 8.4, senior Co-Captain Anne Milmo 8.25, junior Stacy Thresher 7.4, senior Co-Captain Amanda Schaake 7.35 and freshman Missy Famiglietti 7.05.

Uneven Bars: Sophomore Eveline Yang registered a personal-best 8.45 on the bars, Marcie Lutsch 8.0, Missy Famiglietti 8.0, Anne Milmo 7.9, Amanda Schaake a personal-best 7.1 and junior Marcy Ruda 5.2.

Vaulting: Irene Shui led AHS vaulters with an 8.25, Anne Milmo 8.0, Amanda Schaake 7.85, Missy Famiglietti 7.65, Eveline Yang 7.55 and junior Kerry Brady 7.5.

Floor Exercise: Irene Shui was tops for Andover again with an 8.5, while Marcie Lutsch had 8.4, Anne Milmo 8.4, sophomore Lisa Cincotta 7.55, sophomore Sara Weir 7.45 and Kerry Brady 7.2.

All-Around: Anne Milmo was the Lady Warriors lone all-around, scoring 32.55.

ACBL Junior Division game results listed

The results of games played in Andover Church Basketball League Junior Division (third-fourth graders) last week at the West Middle School gym: St. Robert A 30 - St. Augustine B 11

Undefeated St. Robert A powered by 10 points from Danny Hughes erupted for a 16-3 first-period lead, increased its advantage to 22-5 at halftime and played almost evenly with St. Augustine B the rest of the way to win 30-11.

Hughes finished game-high with 12 points, Mark Baggerroer and Justin Murray added six points each, John Canavan had four and Greg Brown two. Jeff Marshall and Matt Wilhington also played well.

Nick Pelletier paced the SAB attack with seven points while Brian Decourcy and Erik Kesting netted single fieldgoals. Sean O'Day was a standout. Temple Emanuel 21 - St. Robert B 5

Temple Emanuel reached the .500 mark, 3-3 overall, with a 21-5 win over St. Robert B.

TE took an 8-0 first-period lead, upped it to 11-0 at intermission and coasted the rest of the way.

Mike DaSilva and Spencer Washburn had six points each, Brett Konjoian chipped in five and Joshua Pisco and Chris Vetrano had two each.

Joshua DiStefano, Dan Lentz, Craig Lochmann and Mark Murphy played well.

St. Augustine A 13 - St. Augustine C 8

St. Augustine A kept its title hopes alive by defeating St. Augustine C 13-8.

Dan Bellaqua had five points, Trevor Thibault four and Ryan Piazza and Andrew Tonelli two each. Sean Carlson and Sean Landers were defensive stalwarts.

Andy Salini had three points for SAC, Justin Bishop and Marty DeFrancisco two each and Richard Roda a free throw. Adam Lustig and Brian Walker turned in strong efforts.

St. Augustine D 28 - St. Robert C 17

St. Augustine D led 8-3 after one quarter, 18-9 at halftime and 20-12 after three.

Peter Burbank poured in 10 points, Stephen Hibino six and Owen Fitzpatrick, Chris Hanlon and Patrick Stockwood four each. Nick Brown, David Connors, Dan Morse and Ben Pierce were other standouts.

Nick Sharis led SRC with five points, Andrew Marley had four, Jeff Sandman three, Brent Adriance two, Clark Adriance a pair of foul shots and Andy Chiaraluce a free throw.

Girls gym team wins second straight title

As expected Methuen's Robin Beeley and Peabody's Jana Reardon waged a fierce battle for North Sectional all-around honors. Beeley scoring 37.05 and edging top-seeded Reardon when the latter scored "only" a 9.45 in her final floor exercise routine (she averages 9.74).

"It was the last meet for Anne (Milmo) and Amanda (Schaake)," said Coach Curtis. "That's always a sad time but both have had excellent high school gymnastic careers."

They are the only two seniors on the team, the only ones who will be lost through graduation, and during their four-year tenure at Andover High the girls gymnastics team went 29-60 in dual meets, won or shared two MVC championships, qualified for the North Sectionals three times and for the All-State Meet once.

Everyone else on the team is eligible to return next year.

ACBL Senior boys: St. Augustine A gets piece of title

Jeff Danis scored a game-high 11 points, and Mike Couture led a 10-4 fourth-quarter run to break the game open, as St. Augustine A clinched at least a share of the 1992-93 Andover Church Basketball League Boys Senior Division title with a 27-17 victory over Faith Lutheran in recent action at West Middle School.

The triumph left SAA at 8-1 overall with one game remaining, a showdown battle with second place St. Augustine B this Sunday at 5 p.m. in the season finale at Andover High.

SAB (7-2) kept its co-championship hopes alive with a clutch 29-27 last-second victory over Ballardvale United, eliminating third place BU (6-3) from a possible shot at the title.

St. Augustine A and St. Augustine B met once before, three weeks ago, with SAA winning a 19-13 defensive struggle.

SPORTSTALK

Andover resident Larisa Willey, a freshman at Regis College in Weston, earned her first letter in soccer during the fall 1992 season.

Michelle McCarthy of Andover has been one of the top rookie swimmers for Hartwick College in Oneonta, N.Y., this season.

She has 14 wins to her credit and has posted 12 second-place results and six third-place finishes. Her 32 top-three performances rank fifth on the squad.

Games benefit Easter Seals

The 13th annual Century 21/Easter Seal Volleyball Games will be held March 26, 27 and 28 at Northern Essex Community College in Haverhill. Any group can organize a team to play, with competition at every level from beginner to champion. Every team wins a trophy.

For more information, call the Easter Seal office, at 683-1259.

and Free (4-5) closed in on .500 with a 39-21 romp over St. Robert's B.

This Sunday's final round of play at Andover High has Free Christian versus St. Augustine C at 2 p.m., St. Robert's B vs. St. Robert's A at 3 p.m., Faith Lutheran vs. Ballardvale United at 4 p.m., and the title clash between St. Augustine A and B at 5 p.m.

St. Augustine A, 27-17
This game was much closer than the final score, SAA leading Faith Lutheran (5-4) only 21-17 with one minute to play.

Key offensive work down the stretch by steady center Jeff Danis, Mike Couture, Luis Dominguez and Brian Jordan allowed the division leaders to gain some breathing room.

Danis held his own in the pivot against the taller Lutheran crew, which recovered from a 10-3 first-quarter deficit to trail only 12-10 at half and 17-13 after three periods.

In the last few games opposing teams have solved SAA's trapping defense, so the leaders are relying more and more on a deliberate half-court offense. The easy baskets on steals are becoming fewer and fewer, leading to closer scores and the only defeat of the season to Ballardvale United two weeks ago.

SAA scoring: Jeff Danis 11, Luis Dominguez 6, Mike Couture 4, Socratez Dominguez 2, Joe Johnson 2, Brian Jordan 2.

Lutheran scoring: Nick Wilson 4, Tadashi Tsukuda 4, Mark Breiland 4, Andy Pojasek 2, Randy Romano 2, Kevin Cline 1. Defense: Geoff Bomba, Roger Foltz, Matt Wessler.

St. Augustine B, 29-27
SAB trailed 27-26 with two seconds left, but Dan Gosselin produced a clutch game-winning three-point play by hitting a difficult corner shot and the subsequent free throw.

Ballardvale used the final two seconds well, getting off a clear 20-footer at the buzzer that would not drop.

Shaun Connors directed the SAB offense and contributed a fine all-around game, while Dan Liffmann and Andy Parker did a good job battling BU for rebounds.

SAB scoring: Shaun Connors 13, Dan Gosselin 10, Alan Hibino 4, Andy Parker 2. Defense: Dan Liffmann, Nolan Pelletier, Luke Pulverenti, Matt Rogers.

BU scoring: Erik Froburg 9, Nick Raueo 8, Mike Orlandella 4, Jay Harmon 3, Elvis de la Rosa 3. Defense: Gordon Baldacchino, Jimmy Rita, Steve Turner.

Free Christian, 39-21
St. Robert's B missed the inside strength of absent Dave Carroll, and was no match for Free which led 10-1, 15-7 and 27-13 at the first three breaks.

SRB scoring: Bryan Olender 8, Eddie Yates 4, Jeff Bellistri 2, Chris Drizen 2, Luke Pearson 2, Matt Stitham 2, Pete Maguire 1.

St. Robert's A, 31-12
Corry McLaughlin and Jarrod Hyman combined for 29 points to lead SRA past St. Augustine C.

The winners used 10-4 and 13-4 scoring edges in the second and fourth quarters to key the triumph.

Dan Barch, Ryan Daniels.

SAC scoring: Ron Hajj 4, Jeff Deangelo 2, Steve Crossley 2, Chris Lane 2, Ethan Murphy 2. Defense: Tom Woods.

ACBL Senior girls have close and blowout games

A pair of two-point games and a blowout were included in the ninth week of Andover Church Basketball League Girls Senior Division play at the West Middle School.

The lopsided win was registered by undefeated West Parish (9-0), which officially clinched the division title outright with a 40-6 romp over St. Robert's A.

Two other top teams barely avoided upsets, second place St. Augustine A (7-2) slipping past St. Robert's B 20-18 and third place Ballardvale United (5-4) nudging St. Augustine B, 18-16.

The 1992-93 season concludes this Sunday at Andover High with three games, Ballardvale United versus St. Robert's A at 3 p.m., St. Robert's B versus St. Augustine B at 4 p.m., and West Parish vs. St. Augustine A at 5 p.m. St. Augustine A, 20-18.

The foul line kept St. Robert's B in contention, as SRB made just four field goals but converted 10-of-26 free throws to just 2-of-17 for St. Augustine A.

Both teams lost key players with five fouls in the final 70 seconds, SRB center Lauren Sweeney exiting with 1:10 left and SAA top scorer Alexa Kokinos following 10 seconds later.

St. Augustine A led 7-2 after one quarter, and 14-9 after three periods before SRB made a late run.

SAA scoring: Alexa Kokinos 10, Allison Daher 7, Sarah Anderson 2, Noelle Blank 1. Defense: Brooke Adams, Christine Casey, Jenny DiFiore.

SRB scoring: Lauren Sweeney 5, Erin Croteau 4, Lori Volpe 2, Jenna Hartwell 2, Beth Harr 2, Katherine Blais 1, Michelle King 1, Jessica Puccia 1. Ballardvale, 18-16

St. Augustine B,

which has played its best basketball of the season the past two weeks, gave BU all it could handle before coming up just short.

SAB led 8-7 at the half, but United's Sera Coppolino and Susan Tully tossed in four points apiece in the third quarter as Ballardvale moved ahead to stay.

Northeast Rehabilitation Hospital beings series of educational forums

Northeast Rehabilitation Hospital in Salem, N.H., announces First Tuesday Education Forum on March 2, with James P. Trotzer, Ph.D., executive director and staff psychologist, Renew Counseling Center in Rye, N.H.

Dr. Trotzer will speak on "Altered Patients - Altered Families, Part II: Practical Guidelines for Treating Families."

Dr. Trotzer will present a treatment paradigm used in working with families where an individual member has been incapacitated by a traumatic accident or catastrophic illness.

The lecture not only includes the disabled member, but also fosters an atmosphere where the potential of the person and the family is maximized.

The program begins with lunch at 11:30 a.m. and the lecture at 12:10 p.m.

Continuing education and contact hours are available for RN's, LPN's and social workers. Reservations are required.

Registration fee is $5. For more information, contact Lynn Joslyn at Northeast Rehabilitation Hospital at 1-800-825-7292, Ext. 418.

RICHARD'S FURNITURE

RICHARD'S FURNITURE has been furnishing homes in the Greater Lawrence area, from attic to basement, since 1949. Their commitment to service and selection has kept their customers coming back again.

An entire house can be furnished from RICHARD'S FURNITURE'S five floors of furniture displays. They have the largest selection of household goods in the Merrimack Valley and stock all styles. They carry an extensive assortment of accessories including lamps, curios and custom glass, and the fine quality of the wood products carried is well known.

RICHARD'S FURNITURE offers a generous trade-in allowance, based on appraisal, on your used furniture. When you move, and have pieces that no longer fit, or when your family size changes and you need a different size table, why not trade in your old piece for an allowance toward the purchase of a new one. All furniture in saleable condition will be considered for trade-in, except mattresses. These pieces make up part of the inventory of the second-hand store, RICHARD'S USED FURNITURE, across the street at 30 Water Street. This store is popular with college and prep school students, as well as people just starting out on their own.

RICHARD'S FURNITURE offers 0% financing for 90 days on any purchase, and lay-away plans are also available. Credit cards are accepted. Free delivery and set up is available within a 20 mile radius with purchases of $250 or more.

RICHARD'S FURNITURE is located at 25 Water Street, Lawrence. Hours are: M., Th. & Sat. 9-5, T. & F. 9-7, and they are closed Sunday and Wednesday. Telephone: (508) 686-3903.

Looking for Mr. AHS...

gan, Quang Nguyen, Al Giangregorio and Dan Queen.

About 200 students and parents were on hand Wednesday night, Feb. 10, to see which student would take over the reign of Rhett Bachner, last year's Mr. AHS, the first ever. My fellow judges were state Rep. Gary Coon, R-Andover, AHS class of '82; Bill Buckner, a former Boston Red Sox player; Mike Marinaro, Boston College football star, AHS class of '88; and Christine Estabrook, owner of Silverado women's athletic club in Park Street Village.

This was Ms. Estabrook's second year judging the Mr. AHS contest.

"It's been so much fun. I think they are taking this a little bit more seriously than last year," she said.

The events in which the young men competed were their choice of everyday apparel, summerwear, talent, and their description of the perfect date, along with the appropriate clothes for that date.

"I was pleasantly surprised," said Rep. Coon.

One of the funniest talent routines was performed by Jeff Feinberg. Dressed in orange coveralls and topped with a Styrofoam bike helmet, Mr. Feinberg sang and played a rough version of We're Not Going to Take It on a guitar. He accented the high notes by hitting a cymbal with his head. He had the audience members in stitches while they tried to keep up with him and sing along.

Several of the contestants lip-synched to pop records. One performance that I particularly enjoyed was Will Hall's coverage of several Michael Jackson hits. His performance was complete with one white glove and spangled clothes that sparkled when he moonwalked.

The talent competition boasted several stars, including Matt Hoots' energetic saxophone rendition of Glenn Miller's In the Mood and Will Dailey's rendition of Harry Chapin's Cats in the Hat while playing the acoustic guitar.

Five finalists were chosen after the initial events. They were Frank Paone, Albie Giangregorio, Will Dailey, Lyle Morgan and Dan Queen.

Each was then asked a different question and the winner was chosen based on his answer. First runner-up, Frank Paone, said the most inspirational person in his life is former Boston Celtic Larry Bird, because "he never accepted second place and he accomplished everything he went after through hard work and fortitude."

Winner, Lyle Morgan, said if he could ask anyone any question, he'd ask former Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev why he wanted a job that placed the responsibility of all his society's problems on his shoulders.

Contestants in the second annual Mr. Andover High School contest wait to be introduced to the audience.

GORHAM DECORATING CENTER

When the holiday decorations come down, and the house returns to its normal state, the winter blahs accentuate the need to spruce up your home. Peg Gorcham, at GORHAM DECORATING CENTER,
can help you put together a decorating design to brighten your home and lift your spirits. Peg is a Decorating Coordinator, and she can help you choose the paint, fabrics and wall covering to achieve exactly the

GORHAM DECORATING CENTER has the expertise and products to serve your needs, whether you are starting from scratch or simply updating your present furnishings.
Their services are available in the shop, or they will come to you for an in-home consultation. Peg and her staff can help you with any decorating need involving fabric from slip covers and cornice boards, to upholstered headboards, bedspreads, table skirts and pillows. A wide selection of window treatments is available including knotted swags, bishop sleeves, balloons, mini and verticle blinds, and they will design treatments for unusual and dramatic window designs.

These services are available for both residential and commercial clients.

March heralds the arrival of the semi-annual Waverly Sale. All Waverly fabrics and wallpapers are priced at 30% off the regular price. This sale offers a further incentive to start to plan your Spring redecorating now.

GORHAM DECORATING CENTER

has a long-standing reputation for excellent service at a competitive price. The decorating services available are wide ranging, from the fabric work to the custom tinting of paints, and all wallpaper and fabrics are discounted. Before you begin to struggle through the decorating maze on your own, come in to GORHAM DECORATING CENTER and let Peg Gorcham help you find your way to the decorating design which truly reflects your style.

GORHAM DECORATING CENTER
is located at 581 Chickering Road (Route 125), in North Andover. Hours are M-F

Hospice is accepting applications for spring training

Merrimack Valley Hospice is accepting applications for a free volunteer spring training program to be held at Sacred Hearts Church, South Main Street, Bradford.

"Our hospice team believes in affirming life, and we strive to help patients and families live each day as comfortably and fully as possible," said Susan Coburn, coordinator of volunteers.

teer and hospice team work together to support patients and caregivers as they face the many challenges of terminal illness.

The 10-week training prepares volunteers to work with cancer and AIDS patients and others through seminars on death and dying, grief, bereavement counseling and a variety of health topics.

For more information on the training, to begin Wednesday, March 24, or to request an application, call Ms. Coburn at 470-1615 or 1-800-933-5593.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage (the "Mortgage") given by Reinhardt Becker to Wakefield Co-operative Bank dated June 26, 1987, recorded with the Essex North District Registry of Deeds in Book 2537, Page 38, of which Mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of the Mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, there will be sold at Public Auction at 10:00 o'clock a.m. on the 15th day of March, 1993, at the mortgaged premises (Unit B5-6 of Andover's Colonial Drive Condominium, B5 Colonial Drive, Andover, Massachusetts), all and singular the premises described in the Mortgage.

To wit:
Unit B5-6 in ANDOVER'S COLONIAL DRIVE CONDOMINIUM (the "Condominium") located on Colonial Drive, Andover, Essex County, Massachusetts, a condominium established by David S. Allen and/or William R. Keezer, Trustees of Colonial Drive Development Trust, U/D of Trust dated July 9, 1986 and recorded in Essex North District Registry of Deeds in Book 2320, Page 85, as amended, pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 183A, by a Master Deed dated June 16, 1987 and recorded in said Deeds on June 17, 1987 in Book 2522, Page 105, and managed and regulated by the Trustees of Andover's Colonial Drive Condominium Trust under a Declaration of Trust dated June 16, 1987 and recorded in said Deeds in Book 2522, Page 137 (hereinafter sometimes referred to as either the "Condominium Trust" or the "Declaration of Trust"). The Unit is shown on the floor plans recorded simultaneously with the Master Deed, and also on the copy of the portion of said plans attached to the Unit Deed recorded herewith, to which is affixed the verified statement of a registered architect in the form required by Section 9 of said Chapter 183A.

Said Unit is conveyed together with an undivided percentage interest in the common areas and facilities of Andover's Colonial Drive Condominium, as set forth in the Unit Deed recorded herewith, which percentage interest may be amended from time to time by amendments of record.

The Unit is further conveyed subject to and with the benefit of easements, rights, restrictions and agreements, all more particularly set forth in the Unit Deed recorded herewith and the Master Deed referred to herein.

Said Unit is to be used for residential purposes only. For title see deed of Colonial Drive Development Trust recorded herewith.

The mortgaged premises will be sold (i) subject to and with the benefit of all restrictions, easements, improvements, outstanding taxes, municipal or other public taxes, assessments, liens or claims in the nature of liens, and existing encumbrances of record created prior to the Mortgage or to which the Mortgage has of record been subordinated, and (ii) subject to persons in possession, and the rights of any tenants or occupants, of the mortgaged premises or any part thereof.

For authorization to foreclose, see judgment of the Land Court in Case No. 163837.

Terms of Sale:
A deposit of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) will be required to be paid in cash or by certified or bank check by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price shall be required to be paid in cash or by certified or bank check within thirty (30) days at the offices of Craig and Macaulay Professional Corporation, Federal Reserve Plaza, 600 Atlantic Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts 02210.

Other terms to be announced at the sale.
The undersigned holder of the Mortgage reserves the right to reject any and all bids for the mortgaged premises and to continue the foreclosure sale from time to time to such subsequent date or dates as such holder may deem necessary or appropriate.

The following premises in the BALMORAL CONDOMINIUM in Andover, Essex County, Massachusetts, created by Master Deed dated July 17, 1981, and recorded with Essex North District Registry of Deeds, Book 1509, Page 13, on July 17, 1981 as amended.

the address of which is 16 Balmoral Street, Andover, Massachusetts, together with the undivided 343% interest in the common areas and facilities of said Condominium and together with the rights and easements appurtenant to said Unit as set forth in said Master Deed, and copies of portions of the plans filed with said Master Deed, bearing the verified statement of a registered architect certifying that they show dimensions, approximate area, main entrance, and immediate common areas to which it has access, as built.

Said Units are intended to be used solely for residential purposes as set forth in Section 11 of said Master Deed that, unless otherwise permitted by instrument in writing, duly executed by the Trustee(s) of the Balmoral Condominium Trust pursuant to provisions of the By-Laws thereof, (a) no such Unit shall be used for any purpose other than as a dwelling for one family or as a dwelling for no more than three unrelated persons, (b) dogs, cats or other pet animals or birds shall not be kept in such Units in such number or of such type as to be noxious or offensive to occupants of other Units, (c) the architectural integrity of the Building and Units shall be preserved without modification, and to that end, without limiting the generality, no deck, patio, or yard enclosure, awning, screen, sign, banner, or other device, and no exterior change, addition, structure, projection, decoration or other feature shall be erected or placed upon or attached to any such Unit or any part thereof; no addition to or change or replacement of any exterior light or exterior hardware shall be made, and no painting, attaching of decalcomania or other decoration shall be done on any Unit nor on the interior surface of any window, (d) all maintenance and use by Unit Owners of porches, patios, decks, yards, parking spaces, lights and other facilities shall be done so as to preserve the appearance and character of the same and of the grounds and Building, and (e) all use and maintenance of comfort and convenience of the Units hereby preserved, and the such Units shall be conducted in a manner consistent with the provisions of the By-Laws of the Condominium and in accordance with provisions with respect thereto from time to time promulgated by said Trustees.

Being the same premises conveyed to me by deed of Craig M. Adler and Stacie R. Adler dated June 15, 1987 and recorded with said Registry of Deeds in Book 2527, Page 256. The premises described herein are subject to and with the benefit of all restrictions, easements, improvements, and other existing encumbrances of record created prior to the mortgage described herein or otherwise having priority over such mortgage if any there be, and subject to all unpaid real estate taxes and tax titles, assessments and other municipal liens, if any there be, which take precedence over the mortgage above described. Further, and only if a federal tax lien has been duly recorded, the premises will be sold subject to the right of the Internal Revenue Service to purchase the property from the successful bidder for the amount of the bid price, said right to expire 120 days after the date of the foreclosure sale, pursuant to U.S.C. §7425.

The mortgagee reserves the right to postpone the sale to a later date by public proclamation at the time and date appointed for the sale and to further postpone at any adjourned sale date by public proclamation at the time and date appointed for the adjourned sale.

TERMS OF SALE: At the foreclosure sale Five Thousand and 00/100 ($5,000.00) Dollars of the purchase price will be required to be paid in cash, bank, treasurer's or cashier's check drawn to the order of Kelley & Kelley, attorneys for the said mortgagee, by the purchaser at the time and place of sale as earnest money to be held, at the option of the mortgagee, as liquidated damages for any breach by the purchaser. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid by cash, bank, treasurer's or cashier's check drawn to the order of Kelley & Kelley, attorneys for the said mortgagee, and the deed shall be delivered, within thirty (30) days after the date of the sale. ## Recycle

DISHWASHER FOR UNDERCOUNTER Installation. Runs well. Free. Call 475-5354.

DO YOU HAVE an item or items that you no longer need, but that would be useful to someone else, something you'd be willing to give away if someone would come get it? For instance: boxes, storm windows, a child's bicycle, cardboard boxes, an old set of dishes. You can list your recyclable items in the Townsman's newest classified section: "RECYCLE". (FREE of charge) It's a way to clean up your place while acknowledging the world is running out of landfill space. Simply write us listing your recyclables and we'll print them in the paper. No phone calls please.

Meehan: Get the economy moving with public-private partnerships

By Don Staruk

Congressman Martin Meehan, D-Lowell, told members of the Andover Chamber of Commerce during a breakfast meeting at Hewlett-Packard Co. last Friday morning that "public and private partnerships are the only way we're going to get our economy moving again."

Rep. Meehan said government must form partnerships with small businesses. He also encouraged chamber members to take part in regional approaches to solving problems in the Merrimack Valley.

The congressman said that canceling or reducing the Social Security cost-of-living increase, as proposed to help cut the country's deficit, "would be a mistake."

He said he likes the fact that Hillary Rodham Clinton is heading the assault on national health care.

He heard a complaint from Bob Macartney, co-owner of the former Macartney's clothing store, about government agencies moving out of downtown Lawrence. Mr. Macartney called those agencies the "glue" that holds such areas together.

Enzo Fossella, owner of Enzo of

U.S. Rep. Martin Meehan

Andover, asked for the congressman's help in getting better cooperation from the Small Business Administration.

Rep. Meehan said the SBA has been underfunded, but that he will work to change that and to provide more investment capital to small emerging technology companies.

He encouraged chamber members and anyone who needs help with the SBA, even if it's just for help with the process, to contact his office so he can keep in touch with what's happening at SBA.

Mike Morris, local attorney and Andover chamber president, told the congressman that many bankers, often his clients, have been frustrated dealing with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Rep. Meehan said he had met with many bankers and heard the problems of dealing with the FDIC.

"It is clear that the FDIC is a real impediment to economic development," Rep. Meehan said.

He blamed the problems on poor hiring practices in the agency, hiring employees of failed banks, and legislation that doesn't give enough consideration to economic development, and he said he would work to cut FDIC regulations.

State Senator John D. O'Brien, D-Andover, at the invitation of the congressman, gave the group an update on the state's education reform bill and said the bill, as it is now, is more governing than real reform.

"We haven't been bold enough yet," Sen. O'Brien said.

Rep. Meehan also said he would work to:

- Prevent "an unfair energy tax" from going into effect;
- Encourage "economic conversion" to commercial markets for businesses which are losing valuable defense work;
- Decrease educational dependence on local property taxes.

Love Boat captain offers alternative wedding ideas

Who knows more about romance than the gentleman who has sailed into American homes for nearly 15 years as the captain of the Love Boat?

Having witnessed many shipboard and shoreside romances and recently renewed his own wedding vows aboard the Crown Princess, Gavin MacLeod knows romance. These days, departing from the traditional ceremony is becoming increasingly popular. Here are a few of his suggestions for a uniquely romantic wedding or renewal of vows (anniversary) ceremony.

- Center your wedding around an activity you both enjoy such as skiing, horseback riding, sailing, hiking, and arrange for a private ceremony to be held in an exotic location catering to this activity, a small ski village, a mountain ranch or a sun-drenched port.

- The Caribbean has many exotic locations and the best way to see them is cruising. Why not combine the wedding with the honeymoon. Princess Cruises, the famed "Love Boat" fleet, now offers wedding and vow renewal packages in St. Thomas, one of the most beautiful tropical paradise islands in the world. Wedding packages include a choice of wedding site helicopter transportation to a private island for a picnic lunch. All arrangements are made through Princess's St. Thomas bridal coordinator who uses only the island's top professionals. Princess offers several seven-, 10- and 11-day Caribbean and Transcanal cruises to choose from.

- If a large wedding is what you want, but a traditional ceremony does not excite you, try one of these location ideas: A museum, an old mansion or a beach for a clam-bake.

- For just the two of you, a hot air balloon, a sleigh ride or hayride are memorable venues.

No matter what you choose, romance is the most important factor with any of these options. A ceremony while on the "Love Boat" can ensure romance. For further information, call a professional travel agent.

If a large wedding is what you want, but a traditional ceremony does not excite you, try one of these location ideas: A museum, an old mansion or a beach for a clam-bake.

Toss birdseed instead of rice

Birdseed is the ecologically safest thing to toss at the bride and groom, they say.

Instant rice kills birds that eat it by absorbing moisture, causing severe bloating.

House of Bacchus sponsors region's first bridal expo

The region's first bridal exposition will be held on Feb. 28 from noon to 5 p.m. at Lowell Memorial Auditorium.

More than a bridal or fashion show, this event is designed to give the bride and groom a chance to meet with top merchants from all areas of wedding planning.

Sponsored by House of Bacchus and its president, David Morrissey, this will be the largest bridal show for the entire Merrimack Valley.

International corporations such as Finelle Cosmetics, Princess House, Holiday Inns, Mary Kay Cosmetics, Ramada Inns and Undercover Wear will be there.

Regional corporations like Kitchens, Etc. and Thomas Cook Travel, along with Northeast Entertainment, will also attend.

This is in addition to all the top bridal shops, tuxedo shops, bakeries and florists, along with photographers, limousine services, party shops, gift shops, banquet facilities and specialty shops, in total, more than 50 companies represented.

It is an event you should plan to spend the day attending. In addition to three fashion shows, there will be live entertainment, private seminars on how to plan your wedding, beauty seminars and thousands of dollars worth of major prize giveaways, including a complete honeymoon trip donated by Thomas Cook Travel, whose superior staff has been instrumental in the success of this show.

Local merchants, like Chris at Valentine Florist, whose hard work and attention to detail will only add to the success of this show, will be there. The experience of Chantilly Place, The Bridaloft of Salem, plus Lowell Formal Wear to coordinate the fashion shows, will be entertaining for all. All of this and special guest host Mike Morin from WCGY will truly add to the fun.

We look forward to seeing everyone there, and remember, the best part is that it's free to the public.

Remember to mark your calendars for Sunday, Feb. 28. See you there.

Diamonds are as unique as the woman you love

For bachelors and new husbands worried about finding the perfect gift for the woman in their lives, the clue may lie in their beloved's personalities.

Whether she's a little "rough" around the edges or highly polished, there is undoubtedly a diamond that's right for that special woman.

According to Lloyd Jaffe, chairman of the American Diamond Industry Association, no two diamonds are alike due to variations in the cut, caratage or weight, clarity and color of the stone. As with diamonds, each woman is unique and her individual character can help you figure out what to buy.

For the "conventional" who don't take many risks, choose diamond stud earrings or a diamond cocktail ring; for the adventuresome with a more casual lifestyle, a tennis bracelet or a small diamond ring might be appropriate, and for the "sentimental," select a piece of diamond estate jewelry or a diamond brooch.

"Diamonds continue to be America's number one gemstone," Mr. Jaffe said.

"In 1989 more than $11 billion was spent on approximately 18.4 million pieces of diamond jewelry in the U.S."

In fact, diamonds continue to be favored at a rate of nearly eight to one over the combined value of all precious stones, including emeralds, rubies, sapphires, etc.

No two diamonds are alike due to variations in the cut, caratage or weight, clarity and color of the stone.

How to keep that diamond sparkling

If you have a diamond ring, here are ways to keep it clean and brilliant.

Place the ring in a sudsy solution of warm water and mild household detergent. Brush the ring with an eyebrow brush, then rinse under warm running water. Use a lintless cloth to pat dry.

Soak your ring for about 30 minutes in a cup half filled with cold water and half filled with ammonia. Using an eyebrow brush, tap around the back and front of the mounting. Swish the ring in the solution once again before letting it drain on a tissue.

Dip your ring in a brand-name liquid jewelry cleaner, but do not touch the diamond with your fingers. Handle jewelry by its edges.

Machines are available that can clean your ring in a solution of water and detergent.

Remember, to help your ring last don't wear it when doing rough work as diamonds can chip. Don't wear it when doing cleaning or laundry. Bleach can discolor the mounting. Have your jeweler check and clean your ring each year. When you're not wearing it, keep the ring in a jewel case.

Strand of pearls adds glowing touch to any bride

A strand of cultured pearls adds a glowing touch to any bride. Brilliantly rich cultured pearls enhance the bride's beauty on her wedding day as they always are a lustrous focal point to her outfit whenever they are worn.

In the future, the shimmering strand of cultured pearls may be loaned to a soon-to-be-wed sister, niece or cousin who appreciates the thoughtfulness of the old adage of something "old" and "borrowed" to complete her wedding attire.

Cherished for centuries, the precious pearl has been woven into numerous tales regarding its everlasting beauty and value.

The ancient Greeks believed that Aphrodite, the goddess of love and beauty, was born like a pearl out of a shell that was washed up from the sea. In the East, the pearl represented love, gentleness, purity and compassion—a tradition carried into every part of the civilized world.

At one time pearls were the exclusive privilege of the noble and wealthy. Julius Caesar invaded Britain in order to obtain a treasure of pearls, according to the Roman historian Suetonius. After the invasion, Caesar presented a breastplate, set in pink pearls from the Conway River in Wales, to the goddess Venus Genetrix in temple dedicated to her in Rome.

Throughout history, royal women decorated themselves in pearls. Queen Nephretete of Egypt went to her wedding practically covered with pearls. Elizabeth I entwined pearls in her hair, wore them as necklaces and had them embroidered into her robes.

In the East, the pearl represented love, gentleness, purity and compassion.

If you don't already own cultured pearl jewelry, why not purchase a strand of cultured pearls for your dreamed-about wedding day? Consider the neckline of the bridal gown when choosing an appropriate style:

High, round necklines can be adorned with either multiple-strand collars or the classic single-strand choker.

The most formal look would be a matinee or opera length necklace falling softly over the bosom; this style is equally alluring with a high-standing collar.

Deeper, scooped necklines are most luxurious with a bib of several strands of pearls falling from the base of the throat to the top of the gown's neckline.

For a final touch, wear a delicate pair of cultured pearl earrings or, if your sleeves permit, a simple single or double strand cultured pearl bracelet.

No wedding is complete without music

A line in the popular "Wedding Song" says, "Whenever two or more of you are gathered in his name, there is love."

There is also music.

No wedding is complete without it, but to have it meaningful to the couple, it takes a little advance planning and ingenuity.

Here are some other guidelines and suggestions to make every wedding and its reception truly special.

or the church music director to determine what types of music are allowed. Many churches, inspired by contemporary services, are eager to accommodate personal music choices.

Resist the temptation to use musical selections just because you like them. No matter how beautiful or entertaining, if the song diverts attention from the ceremony, don't consider it.

Wedding costs are divided among bride, groom and their families

Bride:

Her trousseau.
Wedding ring for the bridegroom.
Wedding gift for the bridegroom.
Presents for attendants.
Accommodations for attendants.
Personal stationery and calling cards.

Her medical examination.

If she is financially independent, the bride may assume any other of her family's traditional responsibilities.

Bridegroom:

Bride's engagement and wedding rings.

The marriage license.

Gift for the bride.

Boutonnieres for men of wedding party.

Gloves, ascots or ties for the men in the wedding party.

Accommodations for best man and ushers.

Fee for clergyman.

Bride's family:

Wedding invitations and enclosure cards.

Announcements.

Engagement and wedding photographs.

Rental for church.

Fees for the organist, soloist and sexton.

Aisle carpet.

Gratuity for traffic police officers.

Transportation for bridal party from house to church and to reception.

Bridegroom's family:

Clothes they wear to the wedding.

Any traveling expenses and hotel bills.

Wedding gift for the bride and bridegroom.

The dinner preceding or following the wedding rehearsal may be given by either the bride or bridegroom's family, or by both.

Flowers are integral part of wedding ceremony

Since ancient times when bunches of herbs were carried by brides under their veils, flowers have been an integral part of the wedding ceremony. The first bouquets were made of a mixture of chives, garlic and other strong herbs, which were thought to ward off evil.

Traditionally though, flowers were symbols of fertility; however, many flowers also have modern-day signifiwant to be said?

Invite friends who can sing or play musical instruments well to participate. Often, the more personalized you make the ceremony, the more meaningful it will be for everyone.

Position musicians and singers near the front and to the side of the pulpit where they can be heard without upstaging the bridal pair.

Bridal registries help make gift shopping easy

When the bride and groom open their wedding gifts, they may be delighted with one gravy ladle but five may be a bit much.

Avoid the embarrassment of giving a gift the couple may not need or of selecting patterns of silver or china they don't like.

It's as simple as checking with area stores that maintain a bridal registry to find out their preferences.

Today couples usually select silver flatware first. Even if you can only afford one serving piece or a spoon or two, they will be happily received by the couple.

The china pattern may be available in the newer three-piece place settings as well as the traditional five-piece setting.

Consider coordinating or matching serving pieces such as oven-to-table-to-dishwasher items and china accessories for gourmet cooking, tabletop cooking and casual entertaining.

Once you have reviewed the couple's choices on the bridal registry, you may wish to select other items for their home, such as room clocks, candlesticks and so on.

Are the bride and groom gourmet cooks, wine experts or lovers of the unique? You'll find accessories they will welcome at a local jeweler. And keep in mind the heirloom potential of any silver wedding gift.

Honesty with mate about finances has impact on marriage success

Do you worry that you worry that you don't have enough savings or do you prefer to live paycheck to paycheck? Do you think you should have joint or individual checking accounts? Do you know how your spouse-to-be would answer these questions?

Being honest with a prospective mate about attitudes toward finances has an impact on whether a marriage succeeds. Although numerous surveys indicate that money disputes are common — they can even lead to divorce — few couples talk in advance about how they want to handle money. By the time the subject comes up, the relationship and/or family finances may already be in trouble.

What to do? Try to resolve pocket-book issues before you get married. "You should determine what your goals are do you can choose the best financial vehicle to meet those goals," advises Bjorn K. Borgen, president of the Denver-based Founders Family of no-load mutual funds.

A good way to get started is to review the past, Mr. Borgen suggests. Talk about how your families handled money. Chances are you picked up many of their attitudes. Who controlled the money? How did your parents behave toward one another and you when it came to money matters?

Although numerous surveys indicate that money disputes are common — they can even lead to divorce — few couples talk in advance about how they want to handle money.

Then, Mr. Borgen says, move the conversation to your own marriage. Do you want to pool your money or keep it separate? Which one of you will take charge of paying the bills? Expect conflicts in your styles, but understand they can be resolved with understanding, compromise and communication.

Probably the best approach to managing your money is to share in all financial matters from budgeting to investing. Not only is this the most equitable approach, it could be vital

The rose is a symbol of love and beauty, the orchid of beauty, and the carnation of distinction. The white daisy symbolizes innocence, and the orange blossom, fertility and happiness. Blue violets symbolize faithfulness, and the blue bell, constancy.

Forget-me-nots mean true love, lily of the valley, happiness. The white lilac is a symbol of youthful innocence, red chrysanthemums of sharing, and the gardenia of joy. Apple blossoms are a sign of better things to come. And ivy stands for eternal fidelity and good luck.

Experts suggest that you consult a florist at least one month in advance and decide on colors and price. Bring along a piece of material from the bride's and attendants' gowns to match the flowers. Also, make sure you find out what flowers will be in season, since these will cost less.

Another floral idea is to use silk flowers, which can be will be a keep-sake. Silk flowers will cost more than real flowers.

Don't forget flowers for the mother of the bride and the groom's mother, boutonnieres for the men, bouquets for any female attendants and flowers for the altar and reception hall.

Wedding invitations: Quality, elegance can't be sacrificed

Computer technology has revolutionized the task of writing. But there are some instances where computer-generated materials simply are not appropriate. Wedding invitations are a prime example. For this once-in-a-lifetime event, quality and elegance cannot be sacrificed.

Here are some valuable tips on sending wedding invitations in style:

When addressing the inner envelope, exclude the adults' first names and addresses. Intimate relatives may be addressed as "Aunt Elizabeth and Uncle John." Below the parents'

On the outer envelope, always use a guest's full name and formal title. Use abbreviations only for Mr., Mrs., Ms., Dr. and Jr.

It is improper to use abbreviations in the street address or to abbreviate a city or state. House numbers and zip codes may be written in figures.

It is recommended to have your return address professionally printed on the outer envelopes to ensure that any undeliverable invitations are returned to you.

Check with the post office to see if the invitations need additional postage. Invitations on heavy paper or with several enclosures often do.

Honesty about finances has impact on marriage success

Decide how income will be shared, establish a household budget and determine how much income will go toward savings and investments. Also, establish a clear idea of what you want to have or invest for in order to choose the best financial vehicle to meet those goals.

"If you're a young couple saving for a house and want to buy within a couple of years, invest conservatively to protect your principal," Mr. Borgen advises. "Money for the long term, such as for a child's college tuition or your retirement, should be invested for growth of capital. Since you won't be needing that money for many years, you can afford to be more aggressive with it and ride out the market fluctuations which inevitably occur."

Money-saving tips: Honeymoons, vacations don't have to cost an arm and a leg

You can have a great trip on less money, according to travel expert Arthur Frommer. His motto, "With a little knowledge and a willingness to explore new approaches, anyone can save on any trip anywhere in the world." It just takes the right attitude and some sound advice.

Here are Mr. Frommer's ten commandments for successful budget travel:

1. Prioritize. Decide what's most important to you, then economize around it. Most people can't afford to fly first class, stay in a luxury hotel, eat every meal in a three-star restaurant, and shop endlessly. But you may be able to indulge in one of these activities if you economize elsewhere, such as foregoing first-class air tickets to stay at an upscale hotel.

2. Use consolidators. Consolidators buy blocks of airline tickets, hotel rooms, cruise ship cabins, and car rentals at deeply discounted rates and pass them on to travelers. Look for ads in the travel section of your local newspaper.

3. Negotiate. "Most travel products are perishable," Mr. Frommer says. "If a ship sails with empty cabins or a plane leaves with empty seats, that's a total loss. Smart travelers negotiate for the price they'd like to pay." So avoid toll-free reservation numbers, instead, call hotels directly to negotiate for a favorable room rate.

4. Go rural. Stay out of a major city,

Think free. For example, why buy maps when tourist bureaus provide them? If your credit card carries rental car insurance, don't buy more.

avoid high-priced hotels and restaurants. Then take day trips to see museums and attractions.

5. Stay private. "Staying in a private home or an apartment is often much more economical than even a hotel's bargain rate," Mr. Frommer suggests. To learn about available homes and apartments, contact local tourist bureaus.

6. Use ATMs. "Have cash, will spend" is typical vacation behavior. To avoid impulse spending, take only small amount of cash and use automatic teller machines, or ATMs, to get more as you need it, explains Mr. Frommer. "My wife and I have traveled to the most remote parts of the U.S. and taken only $100 in cash. That's because my bank belongs to the MasterCard/CIRRUS ATM Network - it offers so many ATMs that we can always find them when we need cash.

"Overseas, use MasterCard/CIRRUS ATMs to get local currency at the best exchange rate," he suggests. "These ATMs give travelers the same preferential rate that banks charge each other, which is much better than you'll get at airports, hotels or currency exchanges. So ATMs are an excellent addition to traditional forms of payment like travelers checks and cash." Contact your bank to find out if you can use MasterCard/ CIRRUS ATMs when traveling in the U.S. or abroad.

7. Pack light. Bring more than you can carry and you'll be a prisoner of expensive taxicabs and hotel porters. Mr. Frommer recommends taking one medium-sized suitcase and carrying it on public transportation.

8. Be flexible about food. Many informal or family-style restaurants serve large portions. Don't be shy about splitting one portion among two people.

9. Skip nightclubs. Cultural events are usually a better bargain than "nightlife" spots, according to Mr. Frommer. Look here and abroad for discount ticket booths where you can get "day of performance" tickets to shows, plays and concerts.

10. Think free. "Don't pay for anything you can get free," says Mr. Frommer. For example, why buy maps when tourist bureaus provide them? If your credit card carries rental car insurance, don't buy more. Avoid expensive hotel phone surcharges by using your telephone calling card.

With these tips, Mr. Frommer says, you're armed for a wonderful vacation that won't break your budget.

Wedding planner book is designed for today's busy working woman

If you're a working woman, planning your wedding is yet another thing you must squeeze into a tight schedule. To ease the stress of juggling so many responsibilities, many women are looking for help.

The Working Woman's Wedding Planner, an expanded edition of the best-selling book by Susan Tatsui-D'Arcy, just published by Prentice Hall, fills the bill.

Designed for today's busy working woman, the book is packed with time-saving worksheets, checklists and guidelines. It covers everything from invitations, flowers and menus, to pre- and post-nuptial agreements, honeymoon arrangements and thank-you notes. And it offers guidelines for setting up a home.

Choose a caterer as early as possible

Professional caterers recommend that you choose a caterer as early as possible during the planning of your wedding just as soon as you've decided on a setting for the reception and a budget.

Linda and Thaddeus Anderson

Barker-Anderson

Linda Susan Barker, daughter of Susan Barker and the late Floyd Barker of Wilmington, and Thaddeus S. Anderson, son of Dr. A.J. and Victoria Anderson of 134 Highplain Road, were married Sept. 12, 1992.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Michael Stotts of Wilmington United Methodist Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Donald Foss Sr. She wore a white taffeta gown with hand-sewn beading designed and made by the groom's aunt, Dr. Naomi Anderson. The gown had a high neck and the sleeves came to a point at the wrist with tiny buttons along the side. Her headpiece, a band of flowers, lace and beads, and veil were made by a friend.

Carolyn DiFranco of Andover was matron of honor. The bridesmaids included Sherry Anderson of Methuen, the groom's sister-in-law, Gail Jones, Laura Egan and Lorraine Gauthier, all of Dracut, Joan Meaney of Chelmsford and Cindy Boyden of Pelham, N.H., the bride's cousin. Stephanie Jones was flower girl.

Derrick Anderson of Methuen was his brother's best man. Donald Barker of Wilmington, the bride's brother, Donald Foss Jr., the bride's cousin, Richard Dumouchel of Montreal, Canada, the groom's cousin, George Chiasson of Rockland, Norman Fox of Revere and David Burton of Derry, N.H., were ushers. Allan Jones IV was ringbearer.

A reception was held at the Rolling Green Host Hotel in Andover. Elizabeth and Ilona Berlik of Wilmington were in charge of the guest book.

Following a cruise to the Caribbean islands, the couple lives in Lowell.

The bride is a nurse at New England Pediatric Care in Billerica.

Her husband is employed at Charles River Labs in Wilmington.

Linda and Mark Dickason

Economy-minded Americans want value with vacations

Economy-minded Americans want value with their vacations. They're thinking about taking shorter trips, staying closer to home and looking into all-inclusive packages to save money.

They're also planning cruises. Once the domain of the rich, cruises are now among the most affordable ways to travel, according to Jim Godsmen, president of Cruise Lines International Association, which has designated February National Cruise Vacation Month.

In fact, Mr. Godsmen says, vacationers with moderate incomes - $20,000 to $40,000 annually - make up the biggest segment of cruise-takers.

He says cruises represent great value. Most cruise fares include stateroom accommodations, all meals and snacks, recreational activities, parties and nightclub entertainment, ground transfers and air fare. The only extra expenses are drinks, optional shore excursions and personal services, such as beauty treatments or the hairdresser, says Mr. Godsmen.

Godsmen passes on these tips for consumers contemplating a cruise:

- Decide how much you want to spend, where you want to go and how long you want to travel. • Book early to ensure getting the package you want. But don't despair if it seems late. Some cruises have space available at the last minute due to cancellations.

- Pack as you would for any resort. Day wear is casual. Night attire depends upon the function and the ship, but dark suits and cocktail dresses suffice for most events.

- Feel free to bring the kids. In one four families does. Most ships offer reduced rates for children and a multitude of special programs and trained staff to entertain them.

- Don't worry about dietary needs. Cruise chef's can accommodate almost any request from kosher to low-salt to vegetarian, as long as advance notice is given. If your dietary concerns run more toward getting enough to eat, unlimited portions are offered. And lean and light menus also are available.

- Don't worry about what to do. Typical shipboard sports include aerobics, basketball, skeet shooting, volleyball, swimming and dancing.

Consultants save couples time, money

Planning an intimate wedding for a few friends and relatives? An extravaganza for hundreds? No matter what type of wedding is on the agenda, busy couples today may find themselves snowed under by all the details.

Facing decisions about everything from invitation wording to honeymoon locations, couples can cut down on the planning hassles with professional help from a bridal consultant.

The consultant is experienced in negotiating with caterers, florists, printers and other vendors, knows the best in each field and can save couples money through volume discounts and

A wedding consultant, says Gerard J. Monaghan, president of the Association of Bridal Consultants, "will help you plan your budget, find the right vendors and turn your wedding dreams into reality."

No matter the size of wedding they're planning, couples still need services and supplies. A consultant saves them time by narrowing the choice to vendors who best meet their needs.

All weddings start with budgets. By making a consultant part of the budget, couples can ensure that the rest of the expenses stay within their limits.

Lillian Montalto covers more than the basics; she takes special care with first-time buyers

Lillian Montalto, broker associate with RE/MAX Preferred, understands as well as anyone who has ever gotten married, planning a wedding can be an overwhelming task. The same is true for buying your first home. This part of starting that new chapter in your life can make all parties involved harried with both excitement and fear.

Ms. Montalto has made the process of first-time home-buying a more pleasant experience by walking the new buyers through each step of the process.

According to Kevin and Dee Corrigan, "Lillian guided us through all the blind spots that a first-time buyer would not be aware of, such as closing costs, etc." The Corrigan's go on to say that, "As a result, we are now in a wonderful home at an affordable price and loving every minute of it."

Ms. Montalto's 18 years of experience and professional designations have given her the knowledge and expertise to successfully compete in today's real estate industry. This does not, however, take away from the personal touch that makes customers feel so special. As stated by Bill and Lisa

Lillian Montalto

Lepore Perry, "Dealing with Lillian is like dealing with a lifetime friend who really cares about your happiness." Ms. Montalto has taken her motto of "Simply The Best" to mean exactly that. Not only does she find the time to find each new homeowner the right home, but she also spends the time getting to know them personally so that their comfort in dealing with her is as comfortable as the new home they will live in.

According to another of Ms. Montalto's customers, "A lot of people hear what you want in a home, but they really don't listen. Lillian listened to our situation and worked to show us the best house for our needs."

According to Ms. Montalto, her success with first-time buyers is brought about by following the basics, which start with honesty and focus and end with dedication and a straight forward approach for each new client. Meeting the need of first-time homebuyers is a priority that can only be accomplished with a true understanding of the fears and the joys that each individual is going through.

For information on buying your first home or any real estate question you might have, call Lillian Montalto, RE/MAX Preferred, 470-0007, Ext. 110.

David Friedenson and Elizabeth Mollenauer
